Some philosophers claim contrary to our experience and everyday logic, that so-called "objective truths" do NOT exist at all. But our intuition, life experience, and also moral laws state something opposite. According to these, objective truths do exist! Only that, according to an old English proverb, "truth lies at the bottom of a well". Of course, truth did not fall to this well all by itself, but a sort of devil must throw it there on purpose. After all, devils have reasons to hide truth from people. Therefore, in order to reach somehow to this truth, we firstly need to withdraw a whole well of "water" which covers it. In addition to this, even if there are people who already know this truth, they are not eager to tell it openly to others. After all, "truth finds foes where it makes none". No wonder that on our planet, before truths get to the awareness of people, these truths are forced to march long distances along pathways which for meaningful reasons in past were called "thorny", while about which only the new "totaliztic science" discovered recently, that for very important reasons in fact are "ways of the greatest resistance (errors)".

Part #A: Introductory information of this web page:

#A1. Goals of this web page:

The most vital goal of this web page is to explain the official stand of the philosophy of totalizm in matters of truth. The web page has also an additional goal, which is to indicate most important truths which presently are tendentiously hidden from people and replaced with corresponding untruths.

In addition to the above, this web page indicates free source materials, such as scientific monographs [\[1/4\]](#) or [\[8/2\]](#), as well as totaliztic web page - for example pages immortality.htm, soul\_proof.htm, ufo\_proof.htm, god\_proof.htm, or evolution.htm, which accepted the honourable responsibility of disseminating amongst people most vital amongst suppressed truths. (Please notice, that in order to increase the reliability of this web page, all publications that are made available through it, are also available under several other internet addresses.)

#A2. Why this web page tries to disseminate general information about truth, as well as unpopular truths:

With the learning and disseminating truths is identically as with climbing to a higher level on a slope of hill. After all, our knowledge of truth gives to us a better understanding and views of the reality which surround us, similarly like climbing higher uphill gives to us a better views of the surrounding landscape. In turn we all know jolly well, why the climbing uphill is so difficult and why it consumes so much human effort. The reason is that we are also climbing uphill of a field that is invisible to human sight. But why the learning, telling, and disseminating truth also always comes with such a great difficulty? The reason turns out exactly the same - i.e. truth also always lies uphill in a field that remains invisible to the human eyes and that is called the moral field. (This "moral field", together with "moral laws" and "moral energy", belong to a foundation quantities on which is based the essence of the philosophy of totalizm.) Thus learning or disseminating truth must come to us equally difficult like any other climbing uphill of an invisible field. But learning and dissemination of truth is coinciding with the action of so-called moral laws and earns us a very vital for living kind of energy, called the moral energy. (Moral energy is like the potential energy in physics - in order to increase it we need to climb uphill of the moral field. But opposite to the potential energy from physics, the moral energy is absolutely necessary for file - in fact it is a kind of "oxygen for the spirit" for the lack of which people suffocate (the more comprehensively this was explained in chapter B of [monograph \[8/2\]](#).)

#A3. Notice that God uses "truths" also as one amongst His "educational tools", with which He educates and trains people for the future "soldiers of God":

Motto: "Everything that induces strong feelings and reactions in people, is used by God, among others, in the role of educational tools."

People are very sensitive creatures. So they react rapidly and strongly, among others, to everything that inspires in them strong feelings, such as pain, hunger, anger, frustration, oppression, harm and injustice, etc. Of course, if we actually lived in a world without God, i.e. in such a world in which our living is claimed by the present official science referred here also as the "atheistic orthodox science" (i.e. the science briefly described in item #H3 from this web page, while defined precisely in items #C1 to #C6 from my different web page named telekinetics.htm), then our reactions to everything that surrounds us would be only our private matter. However, evidence and formal scientific proof presented in items #B1 to #B3 from my web page named changelings.htm conclusively reveal to us, that in fact we live in the world created and wisely ruled by the almighty God. On the other hand, in the world wisely ruled by the almighty God everything that is manifested in there is in fact derived from God and has a very important reason for its occurrence. As it turns out, one amongst the reasons for which people are experiencing such a multitude of different phenomena that arouse in them strong feelings and reactions, is that God uses these phenomena and human reactions caused by them, amongst others, as "educational tools" with which God is raising up people for moral, resourceful, tough and battle-hardened "soldiers of God". On a number of totaliztic web pages I already explained in detail "why" and "how" God uses for such educational tools various phenomena other than "truth", that also excite strong feelings in humans. For example, in items #C1 to #C9 of my web page named god exists.htm I already explained exactly how for such a role of educational tool is used "pain" and "suffering". In turn, for example in item #L2 from the web page named magnocraft.htm I explained how in the role of educational tool are used God's simulations of UFOs and UFOonauts. In contrast, items #B4, #C2 and #F1 from the web page named tornado.htm reveal and indicate the confirming evidence which suggests, that even the various types of cataclysmic events, such as tornadoes, are also send by God to achieve God's superior goals, including the proper upbringing of people. This web page provides an additional opportunity to explain to the reader as well, how in the same role of educational tool is used "truth" and its products - means are used human reactions to various feelings aroused by truth or by lack of it (i.e. by untruth), e.g. such feelings as frustration, impatience, a sense of injustice, anger, revenge, etc. However, in order to NOT interfere with the course of deductions of this web page, these explanations are moved to a separate "part #H" near the end of this web page. Personally, I strongly recommend to the reader, that while reviewing this web page, he or she does NOT omit the learning of explanations from that "part #H". After all, these explanations actually "open the reader's eyes" to many issues which previously remained unknown or misunderstood, or at least to become aware of the existence and operation of these issues.

Part #B: Let us define the "totalistic understanding of truth":

#B1. Mutually linked terminology: "facts", "data", "information", "truths" and "untruths":

By the term "fact" we describe some raw situation, object, or state, which can be identified and unambiguously described. An example of fact is the situation that e.g. "my watch indicates 12:00".

One or more raw facts which we intend to subject to some kind of processing is called "data". An example of data is the situation that "my watch indicates 12:00" and the earlier finding that "my watch gets late by 1 minute each 10 hours".

The result of our processing of "data" is called an "information". An example of "information" is finding that "on the basis of indications from my watch and the error of indications which I managed to establish earlier, I determined that just now is 12:05".

Every information can be either "truth" or "untruth". "Truth" is the information which faithfully, reliably, and unambiguously reflects the reality which surrounds us. (For even more precise definition of "truth" see item #B3 below.) In turn "untruth" is the information which is either a false reflection of reality, or which does NOT reflect this reality at all.

"Truths" should be clearly distinguished from "facts". This is because a "fact" is a raw finding, which still requires a processing in order to inform us about a "truth". In turn "truth" is a correct information. An example of "fact" is the finding that "my watch indicates 12:00". (Means, without the analysis of correctness of this indication of my watch we still do NOT know what time really is.) In turn an example of "truth" is the information that "just now is 12:00" (of course, in order this information represents the "truth", a "non-written assumption" must be fulfilled that the person who states this "truth" was absolutely sure that he announced it exactly at 12:00).

#B2. "Fabrications" generate "facts" which have NO "cause-effect relationship" with the corresponding "truths" - and thus which lead to a cunning taking "untruths" for "truths":

From the everyday life we know, that "facts" indicate the "truth" only when no-one "fabricated" these facts (nor nothing "manipulated" them) in such a manner that it cut these facts from the "cause-effect relationship" with the "truth" that they point out. For example, if we are waiting for a train, then the "truth" about a current time we can read only from a clock which was NOT shifted back intentionally by someone e.g. to make us being late for the train, nor which for some other reasons is late. The above well known to everyone example points our attention onto the destructive role of "fabrications" of facts (or "manipulating" facts by some natural factors). Namely, "facts" which were "fabricated" by someone (or "manipulated"), do NOT have the "cause-effect relationship" with the "truth" which they point out. Therefore, instead of indicating "truth", in reality they misleadingly make us take "untruth" for "truth".

The above logical deduction reveals to us that a basic duty of everyone who seek "truth" is to make sure that "facts" on which this someone tries to establish a given "truth" are NOT "fabricated" by someone (nor are "manipulated" by something). But, as it is to be explained in "part #C" of this web page, the "institution of official human science, which supplies the humanity with a largest number of "truths" about the surrounding reality, completely fails the duty to make sure that "facts" on which it bases these "truths" were NOT "fabricated" e.g. by God". In the result, a significant majority of "truths" disseminated by present official science in reality represents "untruths" - and thus in the near future will need to be denied (similarly as denied needed to be already numerous "truths" disseminated by scientists of the past - for a list of some of these past "untruths" see subsection JB7.3 from volume 7 of [monograph \[1/4\]](#)).

#B3. What is this "totaliztic truth" - means a totaliztic definition of truth:

Dictionaries usually define the word "truth" as (1) "conformity to knowledge, fact, or logic", or as (2) "fidelity to an original or standard" - see "Reader's Digest Universal Dictionary", Sydney 1988, ISBN 0-86438-054-2, page 1616. Of course, after such defining truth, in many cases it may not exist, in spite that our intuition states otherwise. For example, if the reality which a given truth supposed to reflect is a physical object, while someone describes to us this object with a spoken language, then in whatever way we would establish the conformity or fidelity between these two, always words will be very distant from a physical object.

On a separate web page named totalizm.htm a relatively new philosophy is described. The main mission of this philosophy is to promote moral way of living. In turn as we know, the philosophical quality called "truth" represents an essence of every version of moral way of living. (In a similar manner as "spirit" constitutes an essence of every form of alcohol.) Therefore, when we wish to know what truth is, the best thing to do is to learn the totaliztic definition of this philosophical quality. So here is how the most moral, progressive, and peaceful philosophy on Earth called totalizm defines the concept of truth.

Truth is a kind of "model" or "image" which we actively form in our mind on the basis of raw findings, reports, or data, which describe to us a fragment of objective reality, which (the image) fulfils a whole list of rigorous requirements that concern (A) unbiased information which we receive on this topic, (B) our active participation in the formation of this image in our mind, (C) repetitive confirmation of this image by ourselves through matching it to a given fragment of reality, etc.

#B4. Is it possible, according to the philosophy of totalizm, to define the specific truth in an absolutely unambiguous manner:

An objective truth have this attribute, that it always is dependent on the circumstances. In other words, in order something was an absolute truth, it must be described together with circumstances in which it is absolutely true. For example, if on the question "what time it is" we reply that "just is 12:00", this is just a part of the truth - even if our watch really just indicates 12:00. After all, on the other hemisphere, or on an other watch, can be a completely different time. So in order to be more correct in our reply, we would need to state "for people from our hemisphere, according to indications of my watch is just 12:00". But even this statement does NOT express all circumstances. After all, e.g. we did NOT determine the precision with which we are provide this time, nor the time which takes to say this information, nor we considered so-called winter time or summer daylight saving time. Furthermore, each one from the above circumstances still has links to further circumstances (e.g. the hemisphere depends on the manner we define the division into hemispheres), which in turn are linked to further circumstances, etc., etc. In the result if we consider the matter increasingly more accurately and strictly, then the "truth" about e.g. time is linked to practically the entire knowledge in existence about the entire universe. Thus in order to tell someone an absolute truth, our explanations would need to express it in the light of the entire knowledge from the entire universe.

Of course, passing to someone an objective truth through expressing it in the light of the entire knowledge of the universe, is impossible for practical reasons. Thus in expressing truths we must always introduce some simplifications. This is why totalizm states, that an absolute truth in fact does exist, only that it is impossible to unambiguous expressing. But is possible to simplified expression of the absolute truth, to which we give the level of correctness and accuracy which suffices for practical applications to which this truth supposed to serve.

#B5. The graphical symbol of "truth" - means the logo of totalizm:

Truth has its own symbol. It is so-called "logo of totalizm". (More information on this logo is provided in subsection H1 from the monograph [\[8/2\] entitled "Totalizm"](#).) Here is how this logo looks like:

Fig. #1: Here is the graphical symbol of "truth", means the "logo of totalizm". Because one amongst most fundamental principles and intentions of totalizm is seeking truths and dissemination truths, while the above logo is a graphical identifier of these people who act accordingly to principles of totalizm, marking something with the logo of totalizm is synonymous with the declaration, that a given user of this logo has the intention to follow a path of truth.

ONLY case when the placing somewhere the "logo of totalizm" does NOT represent a declaration of truth, are situations when this logo is abused by some cheater who uses it to mask with it his intention to cause misleading.

Totalizm is the name for a new philosophy, which is the most peaceful, most moral, the most scientifically based, and the most progressive out of all philosophies currently in existence on Earth. This philosophy uses a very special logo. This logo is of the shape of ellipsis, with white and red symbols in it. It has an extremely unusual history and quite a special interpretation, both of which are comprehensively explained in subsection N1 from volume 8 of monograph [\[8/2\] entitled "Totalizm"](#). (English version of monograph [8/2] can be downloaded free of charge from almost all internet web sites listed in the menu from the left margin of this page; addresses of these pages one can also find, if asks any search engine to look for the key words totalizm.) Logo of totalizm displays many very unusual attributes. For example it emits quite special and positive "configuration vibrations", which can be perceived with tools of radiesthesia (e.g. by a divining pendulum or a divining rod). It is also already widely known from its amazing healing properties, and from the work as a powerful amulet that brings good luck in business and in personal life. For example, web servers which have web pages with this logo in them, are doing very well, while people who carry this logo have events of their lifetimes when they have this logo with them. You can find this logo at the front of every internet web page which is devoted to the positive philosophy of totalizm.

Part #C: Let us notice that the majority of "truths" disseminated by present official human science are actually "untruths" - because scientists failed to take under consideration that "facts" which led them to these "truths" in reality were "fabrications":

"Facts" allow us to trace "truths" that are indicated by them, only in cases when there is a "cause-effect relationship" between these "facts" and "truths". Therefore, for example "facts" which are "fabricated" or "falsified" typically "lead us astray" and indicate "untruths" instead of "truths". On the other hand the human science takes "non-written assumptions" that all "facts" discovered in the nature lead this science to findings of "truths". But in our world science should take under consideration, that at least some "facts" identified in the nature were "created" by God, means "fabricated". As such, these "fabricated facts" do NOT lead to "truths" because they do NOT have the "cause-effect relationship" with these "truths". Therefore, in the present situation of the humanity, the science has NO right to adopt this "non-written assumption", but should investigate every "fact" separately as to whether it actually has the "cause-effect relationship" with the "truth" which this "fact" indicates. Because the science does NOT carry out such investigations of "facts", almost all "truths" which it so-far discovered most probably are "untruths". Therefore, this "part #C" of the web page presents a logical deduction which indicates, that a blind accepting by the science of this "non-written assumption" that "the world in which we live was NOT created, nor is governed, by God" leads to situations when the majority of "truths" determined by this science in reality are "untruths".

#C1. In the universe created and ruled by God all "facts" in reality are "fabrications":

My logical analysis concerning the "non-written assumption" taken without checking by the official human science, were inspired by the television documentary which I viewed in New Zealand television in 2008. In this documentary a young mother was shown. She was shocked by the medical finding that her own child displays completely different genetics than herself. This genetics suggested that the child was NOT at all neither her, nor her husband, although there was NO a physical reason why it should be so. The birth was in the home - so there was no possibility that the child could be swapped with some other one. Also from the very beginning the mother took notice of a special mark on skin of this child, so that all the time she had assurance that the child remains the same. Furthermore, present modern information systems allowed her to find several other similar cases spread all over the world, in which the certainty of biological motherhood was equally sure, but still genetics of children differed from genetics of parents. Then the documentary show a scientist who carried out detailed research on this and other similar cases. This scientist argued, that such completely different genetic makeup of a child can appear just by an accident. Although this scientist used the scientific terminology which sounded very learned, and although he contributed a really impressive amount of research effort into this puzzle of the nature, I personally found his argumentation very naive. For example, he did NOT even consider the possibility that various other factors could be in action there which could be different from a pure coincidence, nor he eliminated logically possibilities of interferences from such other factors. On the other hand, apart from a pure coincidence, this different genetic makeup of a child could also be caused by several other factors - for example due to the use of this specific mother by UFO-nauts as a so-called "surrogate mother" (for growing a foetus implanted by UFO-nauts), or due to a direct intervention from God (after all, we do NOT know whether Jesus had the same genetic makeup as the Virgin Mary had).

The matter of this child of a different genetic makeup from his mother started to bother me. After all, if the husband of this mother did NOT trust her unreservedly, then he could win a case for divorce in practically every court - no matter where the truth really lied. Therefore, philosophical question which I started to ask then, was whether in our universe all "natural" facts have a direct "cause-effect relationship" with the truth which they concern. (In this case whether the fact of a "different genetic makeup of a mother and a child" have a direct cause-effect relationship with the truth "who is the biological mother (and father) of this child".) With the elapse of time this question transformed into a kind of "eye-opening" philosophical problem.

The answer to this philosophical problem was provided for me by the analysis of several other cases when "natural" facts actually clearly contradicted "truths". This answer states that only in the universe which is NOT created nor ruled by God, natural facts have a direct cause-effect relationship to truth that depend on these facts. After all, only in such an universe deprived of God, if something manifests itself, it always must result from so-called "natural cause-effect chains". This is because only such chains in this universe would be able to govern the process of formation of all objects and the course of all events. In the universe without God such cause-effect chains would represent the mechanism which causes the origins of everything. Thus only in the universe without God, finding e.g. bones of dinosaurs would really mean that dinosaurs actually lived in there. This is because the life of dinosaurs would be the only mechanism in there which would be able to make these bones.

In turn, in the world created and ruled by God, the only reason why something is created (thus also the reason why it occurs) is the need of God to accomplish specific goals. Thus, God creates and shapes everything mainly in such a manner, that with the use of it He is able to accomplish His superior goals. In this way, for example finding bones of dinosaurs in the world created by God, may equally well mean that God intentionally "fabricated" these bones in order to inspire with them human scientists to carry out creative investigations. Or it may mean the intention of accomplishing by God various other goals described in item #A2 from the web page evolution.htm. After all, in the world that God created, He creates everything anyway. Since He takes onto Himself the trouble of creating everything, the most justified is for Him such creating, which assures the fulfilment of His Godly goals. In the result, in the world created and ruled by God, everything may only look as if it is ruled by the "natural cause-effect chains". After all, in the process of creation and ruling God uses the so-called "Canon of Ambiguity" described in item #C2 of the web page will.htm. However, in reality it is NOT in the interest of God that everything obeys the "natural cause-effect chain", but it lies in His interest that it serves well towards accomplishing God's superior goals. Therefore, while analysing any "facts" from our surroundings, we always should take under consideration that in the world created and ruled by God, in the vital interest of this God lies that "created" (i.e. "fabricated") are these facts only which in the best manner are to serve the God's goals - even if these facts are completely separated from the "truth" and they actually contradict the truth which they supposedly indicate.

#C2. There is a whole ocean of scientific evidence that the world in which we live was really created and is governed by God - and thus that human scientists have NO rights to take a "non-written assumption" that all "facts" have "cause-effect relationships" with "truths" that these facts indicate:

In spite that the official human science stubbornly repeats like a broken record from an old gramophone, that God does NOT exist, around us can be found, and already was scientifically identified, an entire ocean of scientific evidence for the existence of God. A significant number of items of this evidence was presented in the entirely devoted to them totaliztic web page named god\_proof.htm. Several further cases of such evidence are indicated in item #B2 of the web page named god.htm, and in items #D3.1, #D1 and #D4 of the web page fruit.htm. Still another and rather unique example of just such evidence, is presented in item #C6 below on this web page.

Simultaneously with the existence of a wealth of evidence for the existence of God, scientists are NOT able to indicate even a shred of evidence that God does NOT exist. On the other hand, as this is reasoned in item #F3 of the totaliztic web page bible.htm, if something really does NOT exist, then this non-existence can be scientifically proven. For example, it is known that temperatures lower than an "absolute zero" do NOT exist. Thus, it was scientifically proven that such temperatures do NOT exist at all.

The availability of a wealth of scientific evidence for the existence of God, means that the world which surrounds us in reality was created and is ruled by God. This in turn means that "facts" are "created" (means "fabricated") by God and in reality these "facts" do NOT have a "cause-effect relationship" with "truths" at which they point out. The consequence of this is such, that the taking a "non-written assumption" by the official human science, that "we live in a world which neither was created by God, nor is ruled by God", is a gross logical error which invalidates all "truths" that were deduced by the science with the use of this assumption.

#C3. Why the existence of bones of dinosaurs, in the universe which was created by God only slightly over 6000 years ago, confirms that God really "fabricates" various "facts", and thus that "truths" which the science deduced from these fabricated "facts" in reality are "untruths":

In items #A1, #A2 and #E1 of the totaliztic web page evolution.htm described are outcomes of my research on the actual age of our universe. As from this research stems, the real age of the universe is just slightly over 6000 years. There is also an extensive wealth of evidence, that in reality the age of the universe is so low. This wealth of evidence is presented, amongst others, in subsection JA1.3 from volume 6 of [monograph \[8/2\]](#). But present official human science, confronted with various empirical findings regarding the nature, e.g. amongst others confronted with bones of dinosaurs, claims that the age of the universe already amounts to around 14 billion of years. The above findings provided me with an illustrative confirmation, that in the universe ruled by God, empirical evidence can be, and really is, "fabricated" for important reasons in so misleading manner, that this evidence is able to contradict the truth and suggest a complete untruth.

The possibility of "fabrication" of "facts" in the universe created and ruled by God has this consequence that it undermines, and in practice also completely invalidates, the to-date methods of scientific investigations. It also invalidates and categorises as erroneous all findings to-date accomplished by the official science. After all in almost all scientific investigations a "non-written assumption" is taken, that "facts" occurred in the world which neither was created nor is ruled by God, and thus in which there is NO an intelligent superior being which for accomplishing some superior goals is able to "fabricate" facts. On the other hand, for scientists to be allowed to take such a "non-written assumption" in their investigations, firstly they would need to prove formally that our physical world is neither created nor ruled by God. Unfortunately, official human science, neither presented such a proof so-far, nor even ever will be able to form a proof for the non-existence of omnipotent God. After all, as this is illustrated on the totaliztic web page god\_proof.htm, there is a wealth of scientific evidence that in spite of everything God does exist, and that this God created the physical world, and He continually rules over our world. On the other hand, there is no even a shred of evidence in support of claims of scientists, that God supposedly does NOT exist, and thus that it is NOT God who created the physical world.

Of course, through taking the above "non-written assumption" - which turns out to be false, the official human science commits a basic error of logical reasoning. Thus the consequence of taking by the official human science such a "non-written assumption" that "our world is the world without God", is that all scientific findings to-date can be untrue.

#C4. The footprints of a man hundreds of millions years old are another confirmation that in the universe created and ruled by God "facts" can be "fabricated" and thus NOT each one of them supports the "truth" which seems to stem from it:

Independently from bones of dinosaurs, on the Earth various other strange "facts" and "evidence" is being found, which also display attributes of God's "fabrications". For example, some findings seem to suggest, that on our planet technically highly advanced people used to walk already around 550 millions years ago. Although the official human science ignores and hides these findings, because they lie in open contradiction to the official doctrines of present science, until today a lot of such "facts" was collected. To these belong for example imprints of human shoes around 550 million years old. (Such imprints are shown, amongst others, in "Fig. #F1" from the web page god.htm, in "Fig. #B1" from the web page evil.htm, or in "Fig. #5" from the web page ufo.htm.) In geological layers from that period are also being found various metal products of advanced industry. Thus, if we accept this "non-written assumption" which is adopted currently by the official human science, that "the Earth was NOT created nor is ruled by omnipotent God", then such findings and facts would prove conclusively that people walked over the Earth already around 550 million of years ago. Means, that either already then some relatives of humans used to arrive to the Earth from space (e.g. in order to seed the life on the Earth), or already then existed on the Earth some advanced technical civilisation of humans, similar to our present one. But is it really true that people walked then over the Earth?

If we accept the fact, that the Earth and people were created and presently are ruled by God, then it turns out that for various important reasons God could decide to "fabricate" (i.e. to "create" and then to introduce into appropriate geological layers) this body of evidence for the existence of people on the Earth already around 550 million years ago. After all, for the "fabrication" of this evidence could inspire God e.g. any reason listed in item #A2 from the web page evolution.htm. So let us consider now whether there is any evidence in support of the thesis, that these findings of footprints and other evidence of the presence of humans on the Earth already around 550 million years ago, in fact were "fabricated" by God for important reasons. Here are examples of such evidence:

(a) The evidence that the physical world exists only for slightly over 6000 years. This means that around 550 million years ago the Earth still was

NOT created yet. The material evidence for this fact was already indicated as presented in subsection JA1.3 from volume 6 of [monograph \[8/2\]](#).

(b) The evidence that cosmic relatives of humans do NOT exist in the permanent manner, but their temporary manifestations are repetitively "simulated". A wealth of such evidence is presented on totaliztic web pages. Examples of these include the content of item #F7 from the web page evil.htm, or item #D2 from the web page ufo.htm.

(c) The evidence that around 550 million years ago there were no enough living organisms on the Earth to support the life of a large group of people, or the existence of a technical human civilisation. For example, out of living organisms which remains lasted from that times until today, there are just so-called "trilobites" (i.e. a kind of like primitive crayfish). These trilobites in turn are NOT enough to provide food for a larger group of people.

In order to summarise the above, in the light of what we already know, people could not walk on the Earth around 550 million years ago for a simple reason that neither the Earth, nor the physical world, were already created then. Thus, "facts" and "evidence" which are being found, that at such early time people were already walking over the Earth, are another confirmation, that for many vital reasons God "fabricates" some "facts" - in this number also supposed "evidence" described here. This in turn reveals to us additionally, that the human researchers should be very careful how these God's "fabrications" are interpreted by them.

#C5. The conclusion of the above logical deduction which documented that accepting by human science the "non-written assumption" that "we do NOT live in the world created and ruled by God", causes the dissemination of "absurd" by science instead of "truths":

Previous items of this web page presented the logical deduction of the character of a formal proof, in which it was proven on the existing and commonly known evidence, that various claims disseminates by the official human science as "truth" in fact represent a "pile of rubbish". Thus, no-one who has truth in heart, should unreservedly believe in whatever present scientists officially claim.

This untruthfulness of "truths" disseminated officially by science results from a logical error which the human science committed in very foundations of its investigations. Namely, scientists accept in their investigations the erroneous "non-written assumption", that "the world in which we live was NOT created by God, thus every "fact" that exists in nature displays a "cause-effect relationship" with the "truth" that it indicates. However, the logical deductions provided before indicate, that in reality in which we live this assumption cannot be taken, as the existing evidence indicates that it is untrue.

The logical erroneousness of taking the "non-written assumption" discussed here, was proven above in several steps of logical deduction. Namely, at the very beginning it was asserted that (1) if the world was created by God, then all "facts" are also "created" by God, means are "fabricated". In turn such "fabricated facts" have NO "cause-effect relationship" with "truth" which they indicate. Then it was proven that (2) the world in which we live actually contains evidence that it was "created" and is ruled by God, and thus that "facts" existing in it were in reality "created", means "fabricated" by this God. Next it was proven that (3) already on the present level of our knowledge it is possible to detect and to indicate a number of "facts" which were intentionally "fabricated" by God in order to mislead scientists who analyse them, and thus in order to express "untruths" as "truths". Finally it was proven that (4) the founding of scientific research on "facts" without checking whether these "facts" have a "cause-effect relationship" with "truths" that they indicate, completely undermines the reliability of findings from such research - means causes that instead of "truths" this research disseminates "untruths". To conclude the above, the logical deduction provided here indicated conclusively and in the verifiable to everyone manner, that present human science disseminates numerous "untruths" claiming that these are "truths". This conclusion reveals, that every person who has truth in heart, should cease to believe unreservedly in claims of present official science - unless these claims were verified and confirmed by the theory of everything called the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, or by the philosophy called totalizm.

#C6. The fact, that all religions of the world state exactly the same, and thus that all of them must be authorised by one and the same superior being, is another example of evidence, that our world was created and is ruled by one and always the same God:

Everyone who learns more than one religion, easily is going to notice, that all religions of the world state precisely the same "truths". In other words, all religions of the world describe exactly the same process of shaping our world and the reality in which we live, the creation of man, as well as precisely the same requirements of human living in the surrounding reality. So even a rough analysis of statements of subsequent religions reveals, that all religions of the world must have exactly the same author, and that the author of these religions must be one and always the same supernatural being, who knew absolutely everything about our world (means it must be one and always the same God). On the same principle as experienced teachers always are able to determine correctly that the author of a whole group of homework essays was one and the same student, we currently are also able to determine conclusively, that the author of all religions of the world was one and always the same God. This in turn proves unambiguously a whole array of absolute "truths". For example, it proves that in spite of denials of science, God does exist. It proves that there is just one God. It also proves, that in spite various religions use different names for their God, and also in spite that in descriptions of this God the religions use various examples, situations, and terminology, still all of them describe the only existing God and one and the same process of creation of the world and man by that single God.

Item #C2 of this web page indicated links and references to examples of very extensive scientific evidence which certifies that God does exist, and thus that our physical world was created and is ruled by this God. In order to save the reader from seeking these references and examples, below in this item I am going to present still another example of just such evidence. This example indicates unambiguously the existence of God, and it additionally indicates that all the religions of the world state exactly the same truth, means that all religions of the world must have one and always the same supernatural author which must be the only existing God. The example described in this item indicates also, that even if given religions originated from areas which were isolated from the rest of the world, such as e.g. New Zealand, and even if they were formed in ages which differ by several thousands years from each other, still they state exactly the same. In turn such consistent likeness of statements of all religions of the world, does NOT have any other explanation apart from the fact, that the author of all these religions is always the same supernatural creature, means always the same and the only existing God.

Of course, present atheistic scientists do NOT have the courage to admit that the "close similarity (almost identity) in statements of all religions of the world in fact confirms that all religions of the world are authorised by one and always the same God" - as it is empirically proven in further part of this item. Therefore these atheistic scientists try to find some imagined arguments to contradict this fact. When we discuss with them we can be sure that they are going to tell us that e.g. "the close similarity statements of all religions results from the principle on which works human mind", or that e.g. the "close similarity of statements of all religions results from similar environmental conditions in which all humans live". Fortunately it is NOT difficult to prove the basic error of such atheistic argumentation. This is because we do have on the Earth another structures, which are very similar to religions, but which in their entirety were invented by people. These structures very similar to "religions" are "political systems". A "political system" of every country is like a separate "religion". The government of every country is like the institution of church in a given separate religion. In turn principles and doctrines that formulate this political system are like principles and doctrines of a religion. For example, a political principle that "every unemployed has a right to receive an unemployment benefit" is an equivalent to a religious principle that "every believer has the right to earn entry to heavens". In turn the political principle that "the good of many outweighs the good of a few"

(understood as an opposite to the political principle that "the good of a few important or rich people outweighs the good of the rest of society") is equivalent to a religious principle that "God invented and created people" (as an opposite to the claims of atheists that "people created-invented God"). So if really the mutual similarities of all religions are caused by people, NOT by the God's authorship of all religions, then "political systems" of all countries also should say exactly the same - e.g. that "every unemployed from each country deserves an unemployment benefit (dole)", or that e.g. "in all countries the good of many should outweigh the good of a few". However, if one looks at different political systems invented by people, then e.g. "the unemployment benefit (dole)" only in a few sparse countries of the world is granted to practically all unemployed people (e.g. it is so in Australia). There are countries, e.g. New Zealand, in which the unemployment benefit is granted to only around 32% unemployed - means to less than every third unemployed (for details see the article "Ease rules on dole for couples say economists" from newspaper The New Zealand Herald, Monday, June 29, 2009, page A1). We also know, that there are countries, e.g. Zimbabwe, in which none unemployed receives a dole. Similarly is with the political doctrine that "the good of many outweighs the good of a few". This doctrine was practiced in a few sparse countries of the world. For example, in years 1982 to 1984 I was delighted to enjoy this doctrine in New Zealand ruled then by probably the best leader which this country ever had (and surely the best leader I ever knew), i.e. ruled by the late Sir Robert Muldoon (1921-1992). But when in 1984 the party of Sir Robert Muldoon lost the elections, in the same New Zealand this doctrine was replaced by an exact opposite of it, i.e. by the political doctrine that "the good of a few influential and rich people is outweighing the good of many citizens". This new doctrine is practiced in New Zealand until today. This is because of it, that in New Zealand a referendum needed to be carried out on 1 to 20 August 2009, to persuade the government to withdraw the law that the government imposed onto the nation. The referendum asked citizens: "Should a smack as part of good parental correction be a criminal offence in New Zealand?" - for details of this referendum see item #B5.1 from the totaliztic web page will.htm. To summarise this paragraph, the huge diversity of statements of political systems created by people - but displaying a significant analogy with religions, conclusively proves that the "close similarity in statements of all religions of the world in fact confirms that these religions are authorised by one and always the same God".

In item #J5 of totaliztic web page wszewilki jutra uk.htm it was indicated, that learning the reality around us can be compared to a climbing upwards of a vertical and smooth wall. For as long as there is NO scientific theory created which described and explains this reality, the climbing is practically almost impossible. After all, the climber has NO tool nor support which would facilitate his efforts. But when such a descriptive theory is created, then it works like a ladder or a scaffold attached to this wall. The climber can now support on this theory in his efforts to learn.

For as long as the theory of everything called the Concept of Dipolar Gravity was NOT created yet, the human analyses of subsequent religions did NOT make any sense. After all, these religions used different names and terminologies, were based on different examples, and explained matters from different points of view. But when finally the Concept of Dipolar Gravity (and the philosophy of totalizm which stems from it), explained to us precisely almost all basic matters related to God, for example explained what God really is, how God evolved, what are three basic components of God, what are principles of moral behaviour which God passes to people with the aid of religions that this God established, etc., then rapidly it turned out that all religions in the world make a perfect sense, and that all of them say the same truths. It also turned out, that all religions in the world use an ancient terminology with various examples and comparisons to pass to people exactly the same messages as with the modern language of science explains to us this Concept of Dipolar Gravity and the philosophy of totalizm. In order to document here this perfect correspondence of statements of the Concept of Dipolar Gravity and all religions of the world, below I am going to explain in subsequent items all key attributes of God that result from this concept and from the philosophy of totalizm inspired by it. Then I will prove on the existing evidence, that exactly the same attributes of God are in various ways described also in practically all religions of the world. Because the discussion of all religions of the world would exceed the humble size of this web page, I am going to analyse below only three most representative religions of the world, namely (1) "Christianity" - which is the most well known religion to all people, (2) "Hinduism" - which is the oldest religion of the world, and (3) the religion of ancient Greeks - which is the most scoffed at by present people. (Because ancient Romans practiced exactly the same religion (3) as ancient Greeks did, only that they changed into their own all names of Gods used in it, the analysis below describes simultaneously the religion of ancient Romans. In a similar manner it describes also the old religion of New Zealand Maoris - as it is explained near the end of this item.) So here is this presentation of exact correspondence between key attributes of God in examples of religions of the world analysed here:

1. The "Holy Trinity" - means the three basic components of God. The Concept of Dipolar Gravity explains to us that God in fact is a kind of a "natural computer", which is composed from three basic components, namely from: (1) "hardware" which is a kind of eternally existing "thinking liquid" called the "counter-matter", (2) "software" which naturally self-evolved in this "liquid hardware", means a kind of gigantic natural "program of God", and (3) "peripherals" means our physical world (and people) which this natural "program of God" forms in a software way from the "counter-matter". More comprehensive descriptions of these three main components of God are provided on several web pages of totalizm, e.g. in items #C2 to #C4 of the web page god\_proof.htm, in item #B1 and #B5 to #B7 of the web page evolution.htm, in item #B5 of the web page god.htm, and in item #C1 of the web page soul\_proof.htm.

As it turns out, exactly the same three basic components of God are explained by practically every religion in the world. This is because practically every religion in the world describes the so-called "Holy Trinity", as the three major components of God which at the beginning of times clarified themselves from the "chaos" of the initial universe. In a best way we know this "Holy Trinity" from the "Christianity". And so, (1) the "hardware" component of the "Holy Trinity" in the Christianity most frequently is called the "God Father". But in the Bible also other names are used, e.g. the "Ancient of Days" - see Daniel 7:9, 7:13, and 7:22. In turn, (2) the "software" component of the "Holy Trinity" in the Christianity is called the "Holy Ghost". Finally, (3) the "peripheral" component of the "Holy Trinity" in the Christianity is called the "Son of God" - while symbolically it is represented by Jesus (who actually represents all people and the entire physical world).

In "Hinduism" God also is composed from the "Holy Trinity". Only that otherwise than in Christianity, Hinduism described the major function (not the nature) of subsequent components of God. And so, (1) the "hardware" component of the only God in Hinduism is called "Brahma" - means the "Creator". After all, it is from this "hardware" that formed is practically everything that fills up the entire universe. Furthermore, it was in this hardware that the "software" component of God evolved naturally. In turn, (2) the "software" component of God, in Hinduism is called "Vishnu" (or "Krishna") - means the "preserver". After all, these are programs of this "preserver" that maintain states and action of the universe. Finally (3) the "peripheral" component of the only God in Hinduism is called "Siva" - means the "destroyer". After all, in the physical world everything is subjected to a destruction pretty fast.

No many people are aware, that the same "Holy Trinity" was described also by the religions of ancient Greeks and Romans - which were very similar to each other. Only that in these two religions the descriptions concentrate on explaining the mechanism of beginnings of God and the universe. Also, these two religions do not use the name "Holy Trinity". The component (1) "hardware" of this "Holy Trinity" from the religion of ancient Greeks was called "Tartarus" - because it was located in the same area as the "world of dead" (i.e. the "counter-world") - which emerged first from the initial "Chaos". The component (2) "software" ancient Greeks called "Eros" means "love". It is interesting that the world "love" for ancient people represented perfectly the abstract qualities which presently we call "programs" or "software" or "algorithms", and which in the Biblical Evangel of St. John 1:1-10 is called with the terminology "word" (in the meaning of "information" or "program"). Finally (3) the "peripheral" component of the "Holy Trinity" in the religion of ancient Greeks was called "Gaia" or "Ge" - means the "earth". After all, it represented the "matter" from our physical world.

2. The existence in the universe of just a single superior being (i.e. just a single God) which, however, can manifest itself to people in many different manners. The Concept of Dipolar Gravity explains to us, that in spite of being composed from as many as three separate components, God is a single superior creature - similarly as a computer is a single device in spite that it is composed of (1) "hardware", (2) "software", and (3) "peripherals". A similar message is also stated by all religions of the world. Unfortunately, in Christianity the individual name for this single God, which has three components, at the moment seems to be lost or non-used for political reasons. (In spite of the warning provided in the biblical Revelation, 22:18-19, that - quote "I warn everyone who hears the prophetic words in this book: if anyone adds to them, God will add to him the plagues described in this book, and if anyone takes away from the words in this prophetic book, God will take away his share in the tree of life and in the holy city described in this book.", still the Bible turns out to be the most altered book of the world - see also item #C4 from the web page bible.htm.) But in old Bibles the individual name for God was stated as "Yahweh" - still present in various older translations of the Bible, see in there verses from Psalms 83:18 or Exodus 6:3. (The name "Yahweh" for the whole God, stems from so called Hebrew tetragrammaton "YHWH" and usually is translated as the "True God".) In Hinduism, this single only God is called "Brahman". In turn, in religions of the ancient Greece and Rome the individual name for this single God also seemed to be lost or non-used - like it happens in present Christianity. But this God had a general name of "Holiness" - as it represented a common element which was present in all carriers of this "Holiness", means in all ancient "Gods". Furthermore, this only God had the individual name "Io" in the old religion of New Zealand Maoris - whose religion was almost identical to that of ancient Greece and Rome.

3. The omnipresence of God and His ability to do billions of things at the same time. The Concept of Dipolar Gravity explains to us, that otherwise than it is with people, who are able to do just a single thing at a time, God is able to carry out billions of activities simultaneously. This His extraordinary ability God accomplished due the formation of His hardware and software composition into the shape of a natural "multiprocessor computer". It means, that similarly as people can be compared to PCs with just single "microprocessors" (i.e. with a single "Intel"), God is like a "supercomputer" which has billions of "processors" working in parallel. Each one amongst these billions of "processors" is able to carry out actions independently from others, although all of them have the same awareness, knowledge, memory, etc. Thus God is able to do billions of actions at once. Such an omni-powerful capability of God is confirmed in practically all religions of the world.

Because of its simplified descriptions and brief Bible, the "Christianity" does NOT explain "how" and "why" God is able to carry out these billions of activities at the same time. Therefore the Christianity is satisfied with informing faithful, that God is omnipresent and omnipotent, and that it sees and does everything at once.

Extremely precise "Holy Scriptures" of Hinduism explain this capability of God quite thoroughly. They reveal that God, while is just a single being, in fact has many "personalities" called "deities". (Today such "deities" we would explain as the "simulated" by God "biological composites". These "composites" are formed through combining together human-looking bodies - which God temporarily creates for the duration of completing a given interaction with humans. To each body God links directly His own mind, thus passing to it, amongst others, the selected "personality" which is characteristic to this specific "deity". On the same principle as in past God created these "deities", presently God temporarily "simulates" "UFOonauts", while not long ago God simulated "devils" and "angels" - for more information see item #D2 on the totaliztic web page ufo.htm, or item #J2 on the totaliztic web page aliens.htm.) Each one of these personalities is able to carry out own actions and take own decisions independently from others, although each one of them shares the knowledge and awareness of the entire only God.

The religion of the ancient Greeks this ability of the God to carry out many activities at once explains through the introduction of many independent "gods", however each one of which is characterised by the "Holiness" common to all of them. In turn these "gods" are simply different names to creatures temporary "simulated" by God, which in Hinduism are called "deities" and which were already described in the previous paragraph.

4. The existence of afterlife. "Why" people have the afterlife, by the Concept of Dipolar Gravity is explained in item #C3 of the totaliztic web page soul proof.htm. This existence of afterlife stems from the fact, that one amongst three components of every person, is a kind of immortal natural "program" popularly called a "soul". As it turns out, the fact of existence of afterlife is explained to people by practically all religions of the world (although the logic states that if the authors of these religions were completely different beings - instead of a single and always the same God, then NOT all religions should inform about the existence of afterlife).

5. The moral requirements imposed onto the physical life of people. All religions impose onto people exactly the same moral requirements. For example, all of them forbid killing, lying, cheating, etc. But rarely religions explains "why" these commandments were introduced. Explanations "why" provides to us only the philosophy of totalizm - due to revealing that on the intellectual level in the universe active are three quantities, called the "moral field", the "moral energy", and the "moral laws" (see also item #A2 above).

Extremely intriguing for me personally is the old religion of New Zealand Maoris (i.e. the religion which was practiced by Maoris before they adopted the Christianity around 1840.) Maoris inhabit remote islands which since the beginning of times were cut off from contacts with the rest of the world. Therefore, if the real authors of their religion would be they themselves, then this religion should be drastically different from all other religions of the world. But in reality the old religion of Maoris is almost an exact copy of the religion of ancient Greeks and Romans. Only that Maoris used their own names for subsequent personalities of God (i.e. for their "gods"). For example, what in the religion of Greeks was called the initial "Chaos" of the early universe, Maoris called "Po". Their Greek-like "Holy Trinity" Maoris called: (1) "Rangi" (i.e. "sky") - for the "hardware" component (described by them as "male"), (2) "Tane" (i.e. the "creator of the world") - for the "software" component (also described as "male"), and (3) "Papa" (i.e. "earth") - for the "peripheral" component (described by them as "female"). Maoris had even their own equivalent to the Greek "Heracles" (means the Roman "Hercules") - which for Maoris was a giant called "Maui". The interesting part of Maori mythology was that "Tane" is presented as a son of "Rangi" and "Papa". But the defining "Tane" as a son of "Rangi" does NOT run against of what the totaliztic web page evolution.htm states in item #B1. After all, an easiest manner of explaining to ancient Maoris, that the "software" component of "Holy Trinity" self-evolved in the "hardware" component of the same "Holy Trinity", was to tell these Maoris that "Tane" is the son of "Rangi". In a similar manner, the explanation to old Maoris of the content of item #C3 from the web page god proof.htm - namely that a significant proportion of the "software" component of God originates from natural programs that form the physical world, was most easy by telling these Maoris that "Tane" is also a son of "Papa". In the book [1#C6] by Margaret Orbell, entitled "Maori Myth and Legend" (Canterbury University Press, 1995, ISBN 0-908812-45-0), on page 179 is described how, according to the Maori Mythology, "Tane" created the first woman. (Selected information on the subject of creation of this first Maori woman is also provided in item #D3 of the totaliztic web page named newzealand\_visit.htm.) And so, he firstly shaped the body of a woman from "sand" of Hawaiki (the name "Hawaiki" refers to the Maori version of "Eden"), and then he breathed life into her mouth so that she become alive. This is why she was called "Hine-ahu-one" meaning "The-woman-shaped-from-soil". Via this first woman Tane gave also to people various problems, like sweat, tears, sneezing, coughing, mucus, etc. This description has NOT only a perfect correspondence to the descriptions of the creation of a first human contained in all religions of the world, but also corresponds well to what on this subject states the Concept of Dipolar Gravity in item #D2 of the web page soul\_proof.htm. After creating the first woman Tane had many children with her, thus forming the Maori race. What even more intriguing, the old religion of Maoris still contained elements which in the religions of Greeks and Romans were watered down or forgotten with the elapse of time. For example, in spite a huge variety of godly personalities-manifestations known under various names, Maoris acknowledged the existence of just a single true God, which they called "Io". This only God of Maoris "Io" was almost an exact copy of the only God "Brahman" in Hinduism. Furthermore, the old religion of Maoris cultivated extremely precise information about how from "Po" - means from the initial "Chaos" of the universe, the "Holy Trinity" evolved. For example, they knew as many as 12 different phases of the evolution of "Po" into "Tane". Interestingly, some amongst these phases generated states which currently the Concept of Dipolar Gravity describes as characteristic and necessary for the evolutionary self-shaping of the software component of God. For example, from this "Po" emerged, amongst others: "Te Hinengaro" means "mind, desire", "Te Manako" means "longing", "Te Tipuranga" means "growth", "Te Mahara" means "thought, memory", etc. As so-far I have NOT met any estimates of the age of Maoris' religion. But because the same religion was widely distributed amongst a number of nations from islands of Pacific, probably it is as old as the religion of ancient Greeks and Romans. All the above confirms again that the author of religion of Maoris must be God Himself, and that in times of passing this religion to Maoris God had a characteristic for that period template of the religious knowledge which people should learn, as well as the unique method of passing this knowledge.

The above examples indicate unanimously, that the author of all religions of the world is always the same single superior being of the universe. Only that this single being created subsequent religions in significant time gaps from each other. For example, the creation of the oldest religion of the world, i.e. "Hinduism", took place around 6000 years ago, i.e. almost immediately after God created the physical world and people - see explanations from subsection JA1.3 in volume 6 of [monograph \[8/2\]](#). Means, "Hinduism" was created around 2000 years before the creation of the religion of ancient Greeks, around 4000 years before the creation of "Christianity". (As well as around 6000 years before inspiring the Concept of Dipolar Gravity and totalizm.) Therefore, during the creation of subsequent religions, this single superior being (God) had increasingly more experience and knowledge as how to pass knowledge to people and how to convince them. Thus, in subsequent religions this superior being could repair His previous errors. For example, the error of "Hinduism" was to give to people too detailed information - means too voluminous "Holy Scriptures" which in addition were written with too precise language, and thus which no-one amongst people was able to read in their entirety nor understand them fully. Therefore, during the creation of the religion of ancient Greeks (and Romans and Maoris), God did NOT give them any "Holy Scripture" at all - although this also later turned out to be an error. After all, the lack of written rules caused that to the religion of Greeks and Romans gradually continuous changes creped in, and these religions started to deviate from the original messages of God. Therefore, during the creation of "Christianity" God decided to give a very short "Holy Book" in form of the Bible. This Bible used rather simple and non-precise everyday language that was understandable even for ancient shepherds. But with the elapse of time, this simplicity of the language of Bible caused mistakes in interpretations, which God was again forced to correct somehow (amongst others through inspiring the creation of scientific theory of everything called the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, and the philosophy of totalizm which stems from this theory).

Part #D: Let us learn attributes of "totaliztic truths":

#D1. Let us characterise "totaliztic truths":

Logical deductions completed in previous parts of this web page reveal gradually some characteristic attributes of "totaliztic truths". Let us list and summarise here at least the most vital from these attributes:

1. Truth for sure exist. Many philosophers argues, that an objective truth may NOT exist at all. But "totalizm" states that such truth does exist for sure - only that it cannot be expressed absolutely sure and unambiguously (as it is explained in next item 2).

2. No truth can be defined and expressed absolutely sure, unambiguously, and undeniably. In other words, although a given truth for sure exist, for practical reasons we always are forced to express it in brief - and thus in a significant simplification. This in turn means, that when expressing such an abbreviated truth, we turn it into an approximate truth.

3. In the universe created and ruled by God, facts which appear to confirm a truth in reality may have nothing to do with this truth. This in turn cause, that people must be extremely careful in their interpretations of facts. Especially if these facts and their interpretations are to decide about someone's fate or even life (e.g. as this takes the place in courts).

Part #E: Is truth always winning:

#E1. So-called "twelve truths about truth" from chapter N of monograph [\[5/3\]](#) in PDF format:

In 1996 I published the [monograph \[5/3\]](#). It reported about the so-called "Tapanui Crater" from New Zealand. This crater was formed because in 1178 AD a UFO vehicle exploded in there. I discovered and researched this crater already in 1987. But in spite of a huge body of evidence for the UFO explosion that was present in there, the dissemination of the truth which I discovered then on this area of UFO explosion was blocked by someone powerful although invisible. This truth is blocked in there until today. In the meantime was removed and destroyed the majority of evidence for the UFO explosion, which I discovered then and documented in my publications. Today I already know that this blocking the truth and destruction of evidence is carried out by "simulations" of UFOonauts which I described in item #G1 from the further part of this web page. It is them that spread lies over the Earth, amongst others through im personating important people. But in times of discovery and investigations of the Tapanui Crater I still believed, that this truth is blocked and persecuted by local immoral people. This triggered my efforts of finding out why it is so. One amongst products of my efforts was the sequence of rather philosophical considerations concerning truths. This sequence was published in chapter N from monograph [\[5/3\]](#) available in PDF format. I entitled it the "twelve truths about truth". I am going to present it here as a kind of curiosity. So here is the final sequence of "twelve truths about truth", which reveal the mechanism that causes that "truth always finally wins" (it originally was published in monograph [\[5/3\]](#)).

This final sequence of "twelve truths about truth" which cause that "truth always finally prevails" is as follows:

1. "Truth never is obvious". An interesting law or regularity of the universe, the existence of which the author discovered only after many years of wondering and unpleasant experiences, is that the nucleus of a truth always seems to be well hidden, masked with trivia, and guarded by a pack of common beliefs. For this reason the finding of a given truth usually takes place at the very end, while earlier many less inquisitive minds are fooled by circumstances and land in dead ends, misleading also many other people with their erroneous claims. This discovery stands in opposition to a popular belief which is reinforced by textbooks, and which seems to suggest that "truth always is obvious and it hits eyes just on its own". But this discovery is agreeable with already revealed principles of God's action described in volume 6 of monograph [\[8e/2\]](#). Here is an example of the proverb which emphasizes that the truth is well hidden: "truth lies at the bottom of a well" (it is ascribed to Heraclit from Efez). The fact of careful hiding of truth brings several important consequences to the human behaviour.

The most vital of these is to become aware that: (1) finding a given truth never is easy and always costs us a lot of effort (or opposite: "everything that can be determined fast and easily, is NOT a truth for sure and it certainly one day is going to show that it was hiding some misleading element), (2) only people with great minds and unique attributes of character (e.g. patience, persistence, thoroughness, inquisitiveness) are able to determine earlier unknown truths (or: the ability to determine earlier unknown truths is the measure of the greatness of human minds), (3) a given truth always is learned at the very end, when all versions of untruth which other people were inclined to listen to are already running out (or: people usually accept the radical truth only if they absolutely have no other choice), (4) a given truth frequently is an exact opposite to what is commonly believed (or: people who wish to learn the truth must distant themselves from commonly accepted stereotypes).

2. "Truth always is inconvenient". Whatever a given truth would state, there always be people for whom it is going to be inconvenient for one or other reason, thus who are going to fight this truth out. This is perfectly expressed by the proverbs "the greater the truth, the greater the libel", "the truth hurts", or "words that are true are seldom beautiful, while words that are beautiful are seldom true" (Japanese). For example, the discovery that the Tapanui Crater originates from a UFO explosion, immediately becomes inconvenient to all people and institutions who do NOT want to disclose, that the Earth currently is under a secretive occupation of a cosmic civilisation which is more advanced than our own (in the understanding of this "occupation" explained in chapter B), or who are afraid that the society may realise that the knowledge of our scientists is completely insufficient for truthful explanation of the majority of phenomena which surround us. The inconvenience of a given truth have a number of consequences, for example it causes that: (1) "saying truth and only truth is always coming with a great effort", (2) "only a few sparse people consequently insist on speaking the truth", or (3) "in the private life we most appreciate others for their consequence in standing by truth" (but we should NOT confuse the appreciation in the private life from rewarding in the public life in which still "rewarded are these people who say things that we wish to hear" although simultaneously such people are NOT appreciated at all). The fact that "truth is always inconvenient" represents a version of more general law of the universe which states that "building is always more difficult than destroying". As it is the case with buildings, which when are bigger they encounter more difficulties during their construction, similarly it is with truth - the more people a given truth affects, the greater resistance it must cause. In turn the more people are affected by a given truth, the more vital this truth is - see also item #5 below.

3. "There is always one truth only, whereas various shades of untruths have no end". This truth is expressed in the best way by the English proverb "craft must have clothes, but truth loves to go naked". For example, when relating to the subject of this monograph, it means that there is only one true reason for the eventuation of the Tapanui Crater, but there are no limits for multiplying various "convenient explanations" for the possible origins of this crater. In turn by existing in only one version, by nature truth is unreceptive to manipulations, while untruth can be shaped in any form that one may wish to have. So the above must lead to the situations that always such a formulation of untruth can be found which satisfies almost everyone, while the single meaning of a truth makes that it never pleases everyone. This in turn leads to the regularity number #2 listed before.

4. “For accepting a given truth people must mature” (means a truth cannot be given to someone as a gift, nor can be forced onto someone). This is perfectly expressed by the proverb “you can bring a horse to the water, but you cannot make it drink”. It turns out that the acceptance of a new and radical truth is a complex process of the more emotional (involving feelings) than intellectual (involving rationality and logic) character. In this accepting of a truth the most vital is the philosophical maturity of a given person. It could be illustratively compared to the climbing of a ladder - in order to climb a specific spoke it is previously necessary to already stand on a nearby spoke. Unfortunately, our present educational system seems to NOT encourage the high philosophical maturity (see chapter JB from monograph [1/4]). From the author’s experience to-date it appears that the higher formal education someone acquired, the statistically less probability is that this someone has the ability to accept a radical truth. So in case of the lack of such maturity, no matter how logically and undeniably are presented arguments and proofs, still a given truth is going to be rejected anyway. Expressing this in a simplified manner, people who are immature philosophically do NOT change their views. From the experience of the author it appears that it is not worth to even waste the time for trying to convince to a given truth such people who are NOT mature enough to accept it. Much better use of this time is to reassure the certainty and conviction in these people who are already prepared to accept a given truth. Because the elapse of time and the accumulation of the life experience are the only factors which may cause the reaching a philosophical maturity, some more radical truths may need to await entire centuries before people get mature enough to accept them.

5. “The resistance against accepting a given truth is proportional to the significance of it”, or in other words “the more vital is a given truth, the greater resistance it meets during the dissemination of it”. So it is NOT true the popular belief that it is enough to reveal or prove the truth, in order everyone accepted it without any reservations. In fact only untruth is accepted without a resistance, because usually it is so formulated that it satisfies the majority of people. In turn the dissemination of new truths requires fighting many heavy battles, soldiers in which are all these who actively fight for a given truth. Practically it is even possible to estimate the extend of the influence at the society that a given truth is going to bring, through an ordinary analysis of the resistance that exists against the dissemination of this truth. For example, the huge resistance which presently is met by the truth about a secretive occupation of the Earth by evil UFO-nauts (in the understanding of this occupation from chapter B), indicates that the final acceptance of this truth is going to exert an immense influence on our civilisation. The existence of the resistance against dissemination of a given truth means that this dissemination cannot be carried out as a “peaceful” process, but must depend on breaking through the resistance of other people, institutions, or countries, for which given truth seems to be detrimental. Thus people who spread a truth, means these ones who participate in the breaking through the resistance of opponents, in case when the truth wins are lavishly rewarded, because:

6. “Truth always bears fruits for those people who fight for it”. Although at a first glance it may appear that only insisting on untruth brings appropriate fruits, actually every truth gives more fruit than the equivalent untruth. Unfortunately, these fruits of the truth usually come after a long time since the truth was seen. Furthermore, fruits of truth usually do NOT limit themselves to only the subject of a given truth, but are also born in areas apparently unconnected to this truth. For example, a significant number of these fruits concern accomplishing the state of inner happiness and satisfaction, philosophical growth, self-realization, sense of life, moral strength, etc., in people fighting for a given truth. Thus, these fruits become unnoticeable to others and are appreciated only by adherers of a given truth, while benefiting from them is possible only in the case when someone actively fights for the dissemination of a given truth. In order to provide here an example of fruits of truth that relate to the subject area of this monograph, from chapter G it is obvious that the institution or the country which acknowledges the truth about UFOs soon afterwards becomes able to build the Magnocraft which is going to give to it an unprecedented advantage over other institutions or countries in the military, technological, and economical areas. But the potential benefits which are to stem from the construction of the Magnocraft can be appreciated only by these ones who are going to accept the existence of UFOs and the fact of secretive occupation of the Earth by UFOs - described in chapter B. Thus the outcome of the victory of truth regarding UFOs will be that a given person, social group, or a country, is going to exceed and subdue (militarily, economically, or intellectually) all these whom for some reasons, e.g. because of the prosperity that existed in them, would NOT accept this truth. Fruits which a given truth is able to bear, give to it a huge power and cause that the number of devotees of it continually grows with the elapse of time. Due to this increase in numbers of adherers, truth always seems to persist independently of the sacrifices amongst its adherers, i.e.:

7. "Truth never dies", although frequently perish people who fight for it. Expressing this in other words, "the correct idea lives even if the first adherers of it already died out". In this way the fight for truth, when once is initiated, is going to last until the victory - no matter when this victory is to come. Of course, the truth does not win this fight for as long, until on the side of it stands the sufficient number of adherers. Unfortunately, in countries of a high wealth there is a basic difficulties with acquiring such new adherers, because:

8. "The more someone has to loose, the bigger his or her reluctance to stand up in the defence of truth". The same can be expressed with different words, namely that "people who have a lot to loose rarely insist on the truth" (this is especially visible in politics). So this contradicts to popular opinion that "people of authority tell and promote the truth" (actually "people of authority have much more to loose than other people, thus in their interest lies more to promote easily accepted untruth that to promote unpopular truths"). The above is a logical consequence of the regularity number #2 which stated that "truth is always inconvenient". So being aware of inconvenience of a "naked truth" people who are in positions of authority and thus who do NOT want to be exposed to attacks of other people are going to rather stand on the other side than truth. This is because in the present moral and social climate "in the public life people reward others NOT for telling the truth, but for telling what they would like to hear". Because in the society that accomplished a higher level of wealth there is statistically more people who have something to lose by standing on the side of naked truth, the above means that “the higher prosperity of a given society, the less in it people inclined to stand on the side of truth”. This in turn leads to the paradox situation that:

9. “The radical truths have a chance to prevail (i.e. to become commonly known) only due to people, social groups, or countries with a low social position or low state of prosperity”. (This perhaps lies at the basis of the significance which almost every religion places on poverty and on poor people. Probably this is also the reason for which in present times the truth about UFOs is promoted almost exclusively by people other than well-paid and highly thinking of themselves scientists.) As this is already indicated in item #6, the learning a truth is linked to a learning various additional unknowns that provide a given person, a social group, or a country, with a significant advantage over all others. Furthermore, various non-material consequences of insisting on truth give to the adherers of it an additional moral advantage. So through promoting a given truth, countries, groups, or people of a lower prosperity or a lower position gradually exceed materially and spiritually these other countries, groups or people of the higher prosperity. This in turn leads to the situation from item #11. However, in order to NOT be forced to act against truth, in many cases:

10. “People especially mature philosophically sometimes even resign from their professional careers to NOT stand in opposition to truth”. This is especially noticeable in highly talented people who on the early stage of their lives accomplished high positions. Many out of them, in spite that a further career still stands open for them, sometimes rapidly resign from it in order to lead a quiet, although more happy, fulfilled, and deprived of stresses life, in order to devote completely to their personal interests, family, etc. After a closer investigation of reasons for which they withdrawn from their previous careers, almost as a rule it turns out that in their opinion in present times the accomplishing of high positions collides with the standing by truth. Therefore, according to their own moral standards, it is better to cease climbing up to the top, than to deprive ourselves the inner growth and happiness. In the life-philosophies of many cultures, e.g. in the Chinese culture, the continuous seeking of truth and the promotion of truth, is one amongst three most fundamental requirements, the fulfilment of which allows to accomplish the state of inner happiness and satisfaction (other such requirements are: the correct spiritual attitude, and the harmonious coexistence with other people). This ability to resign from career in the name of truth can also be expressed with the words, that “people internally great do NOT need to climb up in the hierarchy in order to prove their greatness” (the above works also in the opposite direction, namely “some are climbing up the hierarchy in order to hide their smallness”). Unfortunately, not many people discover this regularity, thus happiness and the fulfilled life usually are linked to the climbing to the top of prosperity, although:

11. “Through tendency to ignore truth the prosperity contains the seeds of decay”. People, families, groups, organisations (e.g. political parties), institutions, or countries, which because of the prosperity that they accomplished, or because of the arriving to the top, cease to place emphasis onto the promotion of truths, after some time are overtaken in one or the other way, and consequently also subdued, suppressed, or outlived, by these ones who stand by truth and thus who also learn the knowledge linked to this truth. This is well expressed by the saying "what went up, must come down". In some cultures the truth that "prosperity contains the seeds of decay" is commonly known and considered even in education. For example, in the traditional English culture, children of rich parents were purposely given to so-called "boarding schools", although their parents could afford the employment of private teachers to educate their offspring at home. In these "boarding schools" the iron discipline and intentional maintenance of primitive and almost poor living conditions taught these children to learn and to promote the truth. In culture of many nations a conviction exists, that the prosperity of a single family - if it is NOT reinforced purposely through the undertaking of some intentionally introduced extraordinary means (such as e.g. educating children in these special "boarding schools"), can usually be maintained not longer than by three generations. The third of these generations so much parts from the sense of truth that is rooted in the poverty, that it fast loses the entire family fortune. This conviction is expressed in numerous proverbs, e.g. in the English "the father buys, the son builds, the grandson sells, and his son begs", in the Chinese "Ji saj czol" which means "riches remain only for three generations", or in the Japanese "if a man makes money his son will spend it and his grandson will be poor again" - for more examples of such proverbs and for their sources see monograph [9]. The same idea appears also in the Polish culture in the known saying regarding the "wasteful son".

It is worth to add, that in the Polish culture the origin from a poor family is erroneously considered to be something that we should be ashamed of, or that we should at least be embarrassed about. But in many other cultures, e.g. in the traditional Chinese culture (e.g. amongst Chinese living in Malaysia), it is completely opposite - people are proud if they originate from a poor family and at every occasion they emphasize it, while they seem to be embarrassed and hide their status when they originate from a rich family. There are various desirable attributes of the character, life experiences, emotions, personal values, philosophical views, and spiritual attributes, which acquiring becomes possible only if someone originates from a poor family and only if the life did NOT spare difficulties and obstacles to this person. People born in rich families are almost as a rule deprived of these attributes. (This is why God brings up humans with the assistance of pain and disasters - i.e. with the method described in chapter B.) One amongst these desirable attributes of the character is to stand by truth. So it is about time that also in our culture the fact of originating from a poor family becomes a reason for a pride, and also that we begin to judge others not by the family from which they originate, but by the progress that they accomplished in relationship to the starting point from which they initiated their lives.

The above emphasizes the importance of the country of someone's birth. The birth and bringing up in a country (such as Poland) which is sufficiently poor to provide its youths with appropriate experiences and views that are available only in conditions of national poverty, but simultaneously which is sufficiently advanced technologically, educationally, and culturally, to secure for these youths the modern and universal foundations in education, philosophy and morality, is a huge blessing which the beneficiaries begin to appreciate only after they go overseas and after they are confronted with the views, values, and standards of people born and brought up in rich countries.

The fall-down of people, families, institutions, and nations which because of the growth of their prosperity distanced themselves from the truth, means in turn that:

12. "The truth always finally prevails trough the simple living longer than these people who were against it". Although the promotion of untruth is linked to various instant (short-term) benefits, on the long term fruits of truth turn out to be more beneficial and provide their promoters with the significant advantage over the adherers of untruth. So in the final effect the adherers of untruth either fall-down and become dependent on the adherers of truth, or simply die out and are replaced by the growing number of adherers of the truth. After a specific time the only ones who remain alive and active are adherers of the truth. Thus, this finding reveals quite a surprising final effect of the mechanism which stands behind a popular saying that "truth always prevails". It turns out that truth prevails because of the "longevity". The victory of truth, although inevitable, does NOT come easy, fast, and painless. It is a long process which requires many sacrifices on both sides, while in the final effect it is dependent on the dying out, subduing, or destruction of people, institutions, or countries from which recruited opponents of a given truth.

It is worth to emphasize, that independently from the author of this monograph, to exactly the same conclusion about the "extinction of old ideas together with their bearers" arrived also other researchers. For example see the book [1N] by Thomas Kuhn, "The structure of scientific revolutions", University of Chicago press, 1970. The main thesis of that book also states, that new ideas do NOT overcome the old ones through a direct speaking to logic and to knowledge of subsequent people and thus through convincing these people about their validity, but rather a growing number of young people enters the world and brings the acceptance for these new ideas, while the adherers of old views simply must die out.

Part #F: Most vital truths that are just are going through their thorny pathways:

This part of the web page describes truths which just now are going through their "thorny pathways", and thus about which this web page offers scientific literature and links to other web pages which present them.

#F1. The most strongly silenced truths :

Motto: "Evil always personifies good. Devil always pretends to be an engel. Antichrist probably is to assume the face of Jesus or Buddha."

Let us describe basic truths that right now are going through their "Thorny Ways" and for which this web site is offering publications that provide their scientific explanations.

There is a lot of basic truths, which present orthodox science was unable to explain, thus which are hidden from the public sight. The knowledge about these truth is hard to come by. Therefore, this web site offers scientific publications that explain these truths in small details. Here is a list of the most important of them:

1. The formal proof for the existence of God. Not many people knows, that the existence of God is not contradictive to the modern scientific theories. Rather otherwise, there is a formal proof already developed and published, which uses a very reliable scientific methodology to prove the actual existence of God. This proof is proving the existence of God in an equally reliable manner, as for example physicists prove that gravity forces are obeying the famous Newton equation ( $F=ma$ ). The formal proof for the existence of God is based on a new scientific theory called the Concept of Dipolar Gravity. Thus, since this proof is developed and available, now the God's existence is not a matter of believes or speculations, but a matter of reliable scientific knowledge! (Notice that the Concept of Dipolar Gravity (CDG) by itself is also extremely interesting and worth reading: it turns out to be that Theory of everything searched by people for so long. For example it also explains what is, and where is located that "second world" to which we are shifting after our death and what is the nature of this world, how our soul and spirit work and look like, what we feel at the moment of death and during this shifting to another world, etc. Exact descriptions of CDG are provided in volumes 4 and 5 of the monograph [1/4] and in volumes 6 and 7 of monograph [8] "Totalizm".

2. The existence and operation of moral laws. Presently people tend to think, that the only laws of the universe that affect everyone, are laws of nature that have a physical character. In turn all other laws that people know, e.g. social, legal, ethical, etc., are only executed from people when there is a policeman around who makes sure that everyone obeys them. But the most recent research into the Concept of Dipolar Gravity reveals, that independently from laws of physics, in our universe do exist and operate so-called "moral laws". These moral laws cause, that everything that is moral must climb uphill in the invisible moral field ("moral field" is very similar to "gravity field"). Thus every moral work requires from us a significant effort and costs us overcoming various difficulties. But these moral laws have rewards and punishments build into them. Therefore, if we obey moral laws and in our activities we climb uphill in the moral field, then we are always lavishly rewarded for this. In turn, when we act immorally, then we are severely punished for this. For more details see chapters JA, JB, and I of monograph [1/4], and also A, B, and K of monograph [8] "Totalizm".

3. Totalizm as the medicine of morality. Only with great difficulties people are getting the message, that there is developed and presently is disseminated throughout the world, a new philosophy called totalizm. The content of this philosophy is described in chapters JA to JF of monograph [1/4], and also in chapters A to M of monograph [8]. This new philosophy explains principles on which we must base our lives, when we know for sure, that in the universe God does exist and moral laws do operate, so that whatever we do, is then justly judged by them. If we obey these moral laws in our lives, we are rewarded by them. But if we break them, we are punished by them. Totalizm is really an extraordinary philosophy. It is the same strict and logical as present physics and mathematics. Because it teaches the way in which whatever affects us in our lives, depends on our morality, actually it fulfils the function of "moral medicine". Even the history of totalizm is extraordinary. All publications on totalizm were written in the most East located large Islamic country in the world (i.e. in Malaysia), but they were published in the most East located large Christian country in the world (i.e. in New Zealand). From over there publications on totalizm were travelling with the speed of light to the most west located large country of the world (i.e. to the USA), from where they were distributed via the Internet throughout the entire world. Thus one may say, that totalizm is like a lightning that flashed across the sky from a far East to a far West.

4. Formal proof for the existence of UFO. No many people know that the existence of UFOs is already proven in a formal manner. The scientific proof for the existence of UFOs is presented in subsection P2 of monograph [1/4] and in subsection j2 of monograph [1e] (both these monographs are available free of charge from this internet site).

5. Hiding of UFOs from people. A next truth which is rather suppressed, is that our confusion and the lack of knowledge on UFOs do not result at all from the non-existence of UFOs, but are actually caused by the fact that UFOs on purpose are hiding from people. These technically highly advances space vehicles, that we know under the name of UFOs, in reality are utilising various capabilities that are created by their advanced technology, in order to purposely, like robbers and thieves, hide from people. They carry out this hiding on several different principles. Two most popular out of them include: (1) creating the so-called "magnetic lens" around their vehicles, due to which their vehicles disappear from the view, and (2) putting themselves into a state of the so-called "telekinetic flickering". In this state they flicker with the frequency of around 2500 Hz, means many times faster than frames of motion movies in our cinemas, or spinning propellers of present aeroplanes. Thus human eyes are unable to notice them, even when they stand directly in front of us.

6. Parasitic activities of UFOs on Earth. Everyone knows that if someone is hiding from us, this someone has something very immoral for hiding. As it turns out, the reason for which UFOonauts continually hide from people, is that they parasite on humans. This parasiting depends on robbing people from various biological resources. This includes robbing people from sperm and ovule that are used for raising the so-called biorobots - which UFOonauts exploit then mercilessly on their planets, from life energy, and from many more resources. For details see subsection A3 in volume 1 of monograph [1/4], or subsection E1 in volume 4 of monograph [8]. Unfortunately, their evil deeds UFOonauts do not limit to just hiding from us. But in order to maintain their scientific and technical advantage over people they also suppress and try to extinguish all new ideas on Earth, making very difficult the completion of such new ideas, manipulating minds of all intellectually weaker scientists and managers - so that they attack and oppress everything that is progressive, inducing various hysteria on Earth against everything that may disclose their constant presence and their parasitic activities on Earth (e.g. against UFO research), and do to humanity unimaginable number of losses and harm. There is a valid reason why in old times UFOonauts were called devils, while the parasitic society from which UFOonauts originate was called a "hell". It is about a time we start to defend ourselves from these UFOonauts and start to get rid of these cosmic bloodsuckers from our backs.

7. Murdering of people by UFOs. In our blindness about the existence of UFOs we overlook one more bitter truth - namely that UFOonauts murder mercilessly millions of people on Earth. The reasons for this murdering are explained in subsections A3 and A4 from volume 1 of monograph [1/4], and in subsections E1 and E10 from volume 4 of monograph [8] (both these monographs are downloadable free of charge from this web site - see Menu on the left margin). Such murdering is carried out both, on individual people, as well as on entire communities. In case of individual people, usually they are killed by UFOonauts through being infected with deadly diseases. For example in subsection N5.2 of monograph [1/4] is described a machine that UFOonauts use to infect people with cancer. In turn on whole communities that murder through causing various cataclysms, wars, sabotages, terrorism acts, etc. For example in subsection A4 of monograph [1/4] I am describing the history of heat wave that killed thousands of people in Chicago not long ago, while in subsection E8 of monograph [8] is described how UFOonauts evaporated two buildings of WTC in New York, killing around 2000 people. The list of UFO murders on humanity does not finish on these two cases. Much more such cases is described in monographs [1/4] and [8].

8. The reversal of friction. A next truth that our orthodox scientists seem not able to comprehend, is that there is a phenomenon that is a reversal of friction. It is called the Telekinetic Effect, because it induces telekinetic motion. Similarly as friction spontaneously converts motion into heat, this Telekinetic Effect spontaneously converts heat into motion. If we master the industrial use of this new phenomenon, then it allows us to build so-called "free energy devices" (in old days called "perpetual motion"). As it turns out, the operation of these devices does not collide with 3rd Law of Thermodynamic at all. This is because they extract heat from their environment in order to produce motion. More details about these unique technical devices of our future can be found in chapter H (volume 4) of monograph [1/4], or in chapter L (volume 7) of monograph [8]. Also description of some of them is contained in treatise [7/2].

9. Telepathy, nirvana, magic, miracles, contactees, and the so-called "unexplained phenomena". The The shocking and amazing is the reluctance with which orthodox scientists on Earth are ignoring, rejecting, and denying of the entire group of the so-called "unexplained phenomena", which include telepathy, nirvana, magic, miracles, contactees, etc. Only the manipulation of their minds by UFOs, that I described above, provides a justification for such behaviour of the large population of scientists. But if one takes a close look at these "unexplained phenomena", it turns out that they have a simple and clear explanations. These explanations are provided in chapters H and I from volumes 4 and 5 of monograph [1/4], and also in chapters K and L from volumes 6 and 7 of monograph [8]. There is also a number of web sites accessible from the menu on the left margin of this page, which provide simple explanations to these phenomena.

Part #G: Findings which support with facts truths from "part #F" about the "simulation" of the occupation of Earth by morally decadent UFOnauts:

#G1. What is this "simulation":

The explanation as to what exactly is this "simulation" of the secretive occupation of the Earth, is provided on a whole range of totaliztic web pages, e.g. in item #L2 of the web page magnocraft.htm, in item #K4 of the web page fe\_cell.htm, or in items #B11 to #B13 of the totaliztic web page god.htm. Therefore, it is NOT going to be repeated here. For the better understanding of the "mission" of this web page, it is enough to know, that in spite that this secretive occupation of the Earth by evil UFOnauts is "simulated", us people have the duty to treat it and to defend from it, as if it was a real one.

#G2. The resolution by the internet list totalizm@hydepark.pl, on "exploitation of Earth by UFOnauts":

A historic resolution was accepted on 24 March 2003. Because it directly relates to the suppression of truth regarding parasitic UFOs and UFOnauts, I am going to present it here. The painful and prolonged fate of this resolution is described more comprehensively in subsection A4 of monograph [1/4]. The voting on this resolution was carried out in very dramatic circumstances, under a significant external pressures, and with intensive sabotage of UFOnauts. During this voting UFOnauts demonstrated to the participants of the internet list the power of their occupational forces, and their control over the development of situation. However, although this resolution turned out to be a painful and expensive victory of totalizm, still it is a victory, and this is what matters the most. Here is the content of this resolution.

The exploitation of Earth by UFOnauts: the collective resolution of the internet list totalizm@hydepark.pl regarding official recognition of formal proof on the existence of UFO, recognition of the formal proof on the occupation of Earth by UFOs, and recognition of the Magnocraft as a technical explanation for UFOs.

We, 161 participants of the internet list totalizm@hydepark.pl, representing almost every area of life and almost every region of Poland, with a great concern observe the development of present situation regarding parasitic activities of UFOs on Earth. From one side we see the passivity of authorities and adverse of scientists towards increasingly larger problems that are induced by parasitic activities of UFOs on Earth, and we also see the growing tendency to ignore the prevailing collective opinions of majority of people and to base UFO-related decisions on claims just a few non-constructive individuals. On the other hand we notice the overwhelming accumulation of evidence on the continuous presence of UFOs on Earth, evidence of immoral interference of UFO-nauts in our public life, and evidence of abductions of people to UFOs combined with biological exploitation of people in UFOs. We are also aware, that in 1981, in the Polish Journal Przegląd Techniczny Innowacje (no 13/1981, pages 21-23) for the first time a formal scientific proof was published, which stated that "UFOs are Magnocraft". Starting from that moment, a growing number of scientific monographs is widely available for all interested, which formally prove the physical nature of UFOs, the parasitic interests of UFO-nauts in Earth, the magnetic character of UFO propulsion systems, etc. Until present day these formal proofs transformed the knowledge on UFOs that is available so-far into a single consistent logical structure, proving via this structure that (1) UFOs do exist and they are material space vehicles piloted by morally degenerated relatives of people that originate from space, (2) that morally decadent owners of UFO vehicles occupy and exploit humanity in a hidden manner, and (3) that the design and operation of the space vehicle with magnetic propulsion called the "Magnocraft" provides a complete and correct explanation for all technical aspects of UFOs. We are also aware, that very detailed descriptions of the Magnocraft, as well as all scientific proofs that originate from Magnocraft, are available in a number of scientific publications. Amongst these publications the most up-to-date is the scientific monograph [1/4] by Prof. Dr Jan Pajak, entitled "Advanced magnetic devices" (4th edition, Wellington, New Zealand, 2003, ISBN 0-9583727-5-6). This monograph is distributed free of charge from numerous web sites named text 1 4.htm, and from other sites linked from these ones. While being aware of all the above, and simultaneously knowing about responsibility that lies on our shoulders because of our representation of the cross-section of the entire society and all regions of our country, herewith we resolve the following.

#1. We resolve that we officially recognise the formal proof that states that "UFO vehicles do exist". We know that this proof, carried out according to the scientific methodology of "matching attributes", is published and distributed constantly starting since 1981, and that no-one managed to undermine the merit of it. By recognising the significance and validity of this scientific proof, we simultaneously declare and remind, that it has the binding power and that its conclusions, and awareness consequences, should be considered in action of every person on Earth. Especially binding this formal proof is for scientists and for UFO investigators, who on the basis of it have the obligation to undertake the constructive research of goals and manifestations of UFO activities on Earth.

#2. We resolve also, that we officially recognise merit of the formal scientific proof stating that "UFOs are Magnocraft, which are constructed by technically highly advanced, although morally decadent, civilisations of evil parasites from space". We oblige everyone to respect the conclusions and significant consequences of this proof.

#3. Furthermore we resolve, that we officially recognise the formal scientific proof, that "morally decadent owners of UFO vehicles occupy our planet in a hidden manner, and secretly carry out a large scale exploitation of humanity". We oblige every citizen of our planet to encompass the seriousness of consequences of this scientific proof, and to initiate actions that gradually neutralise this occupation and exploitation of people by UFOnavts.

While resolving all the above, we simultaneously strongly encourage all interested, to urgently learn about scientific proofs contained in the monograph [1/4] indicated above, the official and popular recognition of which this resolution declares and also the multitude of consequences of which we are trying to realise with the assistance of this resolution. We also encourage to learn the design, operation, and propulsion system of the Magnocraft, which is the space vehicle that represents an Earth's version of UFOs (means which displays all attributes of UFOs, carries the same operational capabilities as UFOs, and induces the same phenomena which are known from UFO observations).

While issuing this resolution, and granting to it the character of a true representation of our collective views and wishes, we simultaneously hope, that the resolution finally is going to initiate constructive actions and initiatives regarding UFOs, so long-awaited by the society. For example we hope, that it is going to inspire the undertaking of systematic research on UFOs by scientists and by people responsible for our security and our level of informing. We hope, that in all matters regarding UFOs the society starts to draw from collective wisdom and stops following the claims of wrong but noisy individuals, who probably are manipulated by these parasitic UFOs. We hope, that this resolution breaks through the impasse to-date which surrounded the progress of people's rational understanding of the reasons, multitude, and technology of morally degenerated aggressors from UFOs. We hope, that it is to make people sensitive about immoral, parasitic, and hidden character of all activities of UFOs on Earth. We hope that it points the attention of authorities at burning issues of the defence of society from evil exploitation by UFOs. We hope, that it makes everyone interested in the scar from identification implant of UFOs, which (the scar) the majority of us is having on a leg. We hope, that it is going to initiate more intensive observations of UFO activity in our living space, and that it realises that with appropriate methods and devices which are sensitive at fast telekinetic motion, literally tens of visually invisible, telekinetic UFO vehicles can be registered in our sky in every moment of time (these telekinetic UFO vehicles are usually referred to, as "rods"). We hope also, that this resolution inspires all people to undertake an active self-defence against cosmic aggressors from UFOs.

This resolution was taken on 24 March 2003, in the result of anonymous voting (which was based on pseudo-names) that was open for participants of debates on the internet list totalizm@hydepark.pl. The results of this voting was unanimous - the entire 100% of voting participants gave their votes for accepting this resolution. The participants confirm that the voting had anonymous character, thus the results represent an exact reflection of actual views and wishes of people that voted. In turn because voters represented the cross-section through the entire society and through all regions of Poland, and also because the text of what was resolved represents the collective opinion of voters, this resolution is representative for the stand, wishes, and feelings of significant proportion of citizens of Poland aware of the seriousness of current situation.

#G2. Notice activities of UFOonauts (formerly called "devils"):

Do you know, that when UFOonauts do exist, as this is formally proven in chapter P of monograph [1/4] and chapter O of monograph [1e], and when these UFOonauts are evil as the research proves, they are not going to allow to freely disseminate truths described on this web site. Therefore they are going to do all possible sabotages, in order to make dissemination of these truths impossible. Thus internet sites listed on the left margin will be plagued by all sorts of problems which may look as "coincidences" but which actually are unnoticeable sabotages of these evil creatures.

#G3. Truth is worth fighting for:

Laws of our universe are so designed, that "everything that is moral is also difficult to accomplish and requires putting an effort into this". This is because of such wise designing of the laws of universe, leading of moral lives is equivalent to improving ourselves. This also concerns the learning truth. After all, truth is the essence of morality. There is a moral law (what are moral laws it is described in subsection I4.1.1 of monograph [1/4] and in subsection K4.1.1 of monograph [8]) which states that every person carries a personal responsibility for increasing of his/her knowledge. Thus in spite that always there will be some obstacles, and always there will be some evil parasites from UFOs, who are going to make difficult for us to learn truth, we must get ourselves to overcome these obstacles and these evil parasites, and to learn truth which is on time and which concerns us. This learning truth is our moral duty. Our learning of truths we can start from the truths contained in monograph [8] Totalizm, or from monograph [1/4], which is offered (for free) through this web site to every person interested.

Fig. #2: Here is an extremely old church painting which discloses UFO-nauts who supervise the crucifixion of Jesus. Not many amongst us is aware that UFO-nauts persecute all creative people and all progressive ideas on Earth. Thus by the definition UFO-nauts persecuted also Jesus and his breakthrough ideas. Only that in Bible they are described under the name of "Satan" - as this is the name by which UFO-nauts were known in times of Jesus. These were UFO-nauts that caused the crucifixion of Jesus with their methods of telepathic induction of hysteria of crowds and post-hypnotic suggestions. Also UFO-nauts tried later to squash ideas disseminated by Jesus. But in case of these ideas they suffered a defeat. The obstacles that UFO-nauts build up were broken through, while Christianity, in spite of their vicious attacks, managed to spread over the Earth.

(The original caption for the above illustration is provided under Figure O7 for monograph [1/4], and also under Figure E1 for monograph [8].) The majority of people usually are unaware, that evil UFO-nauts supervised the crucifixion of Jesus. Two UFO vehicles, which inside carry clearly visible faces of UFO-nauts watching the crucifixion, are shown in the above old religious painting from the Orthodox Basilica in Georgia. Both UFO vehicles can be seen as they hover in the air slightly below hands of Jesus on the cross. In turn on enlargements of both these UFO vehicles, which are reproduced below the entire painting, in each vehicle a large, long face of a UFO-naut can be seen, as he looks outside of the vehicle through the transparent floor. (In order to notice these faces, one needs to look at the enlargements of both UFO vehicles from the side directions - means either after rotating the picture, or our head, by the angle 90 degrees in relation to how normally we look at this picture.) It is extremely interesting, that facial features of the UFO-naut who watches the crucifixion through the floor of the UFO vehicle from the right side of the picture (i.e. the UFO which is visible on the left side of a person looking at this picture), look shockingly similar to facial features of Osama Bin Laden. Is it possible that both of them originate from the same civilisation - see also item #12 from web page about Antichrist. Actually in a symbolic manner, UFO vehicles are also shown as a standard feature on practically every picture with the crucifixion of Jesus present in Greek Orthodox churches. Usually they can be seen there as a kind of zigzag, or a curved letter "M", which is pinned to the cross near both hands (nails) of Jesus. Reasons why evil UFO-nauts were so hostile towards Jesus, that they make Him to be crucified by hypnotically and telepathically angered ancient Israelites, becomes obvious if the reader reviews the logic of a formal proof presented on the web page ufo.htm. This formal proof states that the morally decadent cosmic relatives of humans, whom currently we call UFO-nauts, by ancient people used to be called "devils" or "Satan". So these were UFO-nauts who fought with Jesus and his moral ideas. Only that, as UFO-nauts always do it on Earth, they carefully hid pretending to be people and impersonating most important figures of ancient Israel and Rome. Means, these were UFO-nauts that hypnotically pre-programmed ancient Israelites to crucify Jesus, because Jesus initiated spreading on Earth the totaliztic philosophy of Christianity, which runs against evil interests of UFO-nauts on Earth.

Let us consider again the story of crucifixion of Jesus from the simple point of view of physical and moral outcomes of confrontation between Jesus and His enemies. This is because the biblical story bears close similarity to our everyday lives. As it frequently happens to us all, Jesus simply tried to put forward various progressive ideas, while His powerful enemies-UFO-nauts did not want His progressive ideas spread amongst people. So these enemies-UFO-nauts used their physical brut force in order to silence Jesus and thus to stop the spread of His ideas. So in a physical sense Jesus lost this confrontation with His brutal enemies and was crucified. But He was victorious in this confrontation on the moral arena. Because He did everything morally, moral laws rushed to His aid. These laws caused, that the physical victory of His enemies was subsequently invalidated by the action of moral laws themselves. In the result, the moral victory of Jesus was later transformed into his physical victory, by the sole action of moral laws. This extraordinary mechanism, with the use of which every moral victory is transformed with the elapse of time into a physical victory, is described more comprehensively on two separate web pages about moral laws and about karma. (A case of wrestling with UFO-nauts on both moral and physical arena, taken from a real life, is also discussed on the Polish-only web page containing a report from the jamboree "Wszewilki-2006".)

This "rectifying" action of moral laws can also be utilised in our own confrontations from everyday life. Although we are not dying on a cross like Jesus did, many of us frequently confronts very powerful aggressors, which try to impose their will on us. In many such cases these our enemies are UFOnauts-changelings themselves, who look exactly like people do and who pretend to be our superiors and leaders. If in such cases we utilise the action of moral laws, these laws help us to fight the aggressor. In the result, no matter how powerful the aggressor is, in the final count we still always win moral confrontations. The method that we must follow to accomplish such wins via moral laws, is described in my publications under name the of method of Jesus - e.g. see subsection W6.2 from volume 18 of monograph [1/4]. This method is extremely effective. It always works when I use it. Also historic analyses that I carried out indicate that this particular method always worked in history of Earth. (As a most well-known to everyone example, consider the aggression of Hitler against Poland in 1939, or the older case of the partition of Poland by Germany, Austria, and Russia.) So let us learn how to use the method of Jesus effectively in our everyday lives. After all, this method has the potential to transform our situation dramatically.

Part #H: The use of "truth" by God as a tool for upbringing of people into "soldiers of God":

#H1. My discovery, that "truths" are also used by God as a tool for upbringing of people into "soldiers of God", was a huge surprise even for me:

In item #A3 of this web page I informed the reader, that also "truths", along with a variety of feelings triggered by truth (e.g. strong feelings of frustration, impatience, harm, injustice, etc.), or by lack of truth - that is by the burgeoning lies, are used by God as educational tools that help God to educate and to train people to be effective "soldiers of God". In the entire of this "part #H" I am going to explain the matter more broadly.

#H2. The use of God's "principle of reversals" to manage "truths" - means

how God uses "truths", among others, as an effective "educational tool":

Due to placing people in the "software reality" and exposing them to a "reversible software time" discussed, among others, in item #H4 below on this web page, God everyday can use the tool that I named "omniplan" in order to control with it every detail of the life of each person individually, as well as the lives of all the so-called "group intellects". (Notice that God's "omniplan" is described in detail in items #C3 and #C4 from my web page named immortality.htm, while "group intellects" are further described in item #E2 from my web page named totalizm.htm.) That strict control over lives of all people allows God to control, among others, the fate of every truth, so that on one hand "truth always wins" (as it is explained in item #E1 from this web page, and as it is confirmed by numerous old Polish proverbs of the kind "truth like oil always comes to the surface" - in Polish "prawda jak oliwa zawsze na wierzch wypływa"), but so that on the other hand this "victory of truth" occurs in the manner and in the moment of time that support the achieving by God of the entire range of His superior goals. One of the most important amongst these divine goals, i.e. upbringing of people into moral, resourceful, efficient, tough and battle-hardened "soldiers of God", is supported due to a systematic use of God's so-called "principle of reversals" during governing over the fate of every possible truth. (Notice that this "principle of reversals" has been thoroughly described in item #F3 from the different web page named wszewilki\_uk.htm.) The use by God of that "principle of reversals" for managing truths boils down to the implementing of following actions:

(a) Blocking and holding back the dissemination of "truths" the learning of which would benefit all people. For example, blocking truths of the kind to which led me the completion of research programs described below in item #H4 of this web page.

(b) Making difficult for every person to be objective in learning truths on himself or on herself. In turn, this difficulty in learning truths on ourselves, causes that in order to be able to learn these truths from other people, and thus be able to improve ourselves, we firstly need to acquire characteristics desired by God, e.g. learn humility, understanding, rewarding others for telling truth; avoid bursting with anger because a truth turned out to be painful, etc.

(c) Facilitation of disclosures of embarrassing or shocking "truths", the spread of which try to hold back famous or influential people (such as movie stars, politicians, millionaires, etc.). Means, assisting in revealing the truths that expose famous or influential people to scandals, losses of prestige, derision, insult, etc. This is because such disclosures stimulate in them (and in people related to them) strong feelings, which in turn lead to educational situations and actions, that God wishes to invoke.

(d) Aiding of official spread and promotion of "untruths" (lies), instead of already widely known "truths", carried out in every case when a large number of people (for example, a large proportion of the entire nation) is interested that these "truths" were officially recognized and adopted. For example, the support to the government and to the politicians who insist to maintain the validity of a law justified by a deceitful claim that this law is supposedly progressive and works for the benefit of the nation, when most of the nation already knows for certain that this law is highly conservationist and destructive - for an example of just such a situation, see item #B5.1 from my web page named will.htm.

(e) Making progress dependent on learning the truth. This mean, the creation by God of the situation on Earth, that "without the knowledge of truth there is NO progress" - that is, the creation of the situation described in item #F1 from the separate web page named totalizm.htm. In turn, this situation forces some people, that in spite of everything, they still undertake efforts to recognize, learn, and to promote truth.

(f) Turning people's "standing on truth" (i.e. "attitudes towards truths and treatment of people who reveal truths") into the basic criterion that decides about the development and growth, or decides about the fall of these people. This, in turn, gives to truth, amongst others, the role of reliable indicator, from the watching of which can be predicted well in advance what will be the future fate of a specific individual person or a particular group intellect (i.e. an entire given nation) - as very cautiously I try bring this to the attention of the reader, amongst other, in item #H7 below on this web page.

The result of the implementation of those components of the divine "principle of reversals" for managing the fate of subsequent truths, is that these truths (or untruths that replace them) arouse in people affected by them strong feelings such as frustration, impatience, disappointment, a sense of injustice, anger, thirst of revenge, etc. In turn these feelings motivate people to undertake the fight for a particular truth, which fight leads, among others, both to impart desirable characteristics of the "soldiers of God" in people participating in that fight, as well as leads to the "pursue of knowledge".

I must admit here that when in the last days of December 2013, I discovered that God uses "truths", among others, as one of numerous divine educational tools, even for me this discovery was a major shock. So I am NOT going to be surprised, if what I am explaining here is to shock also the reader of this web page. Therefore, in order to gradually introduce the reader to the subject, in item #H3 below I am going to explain how the evolution of my views looked like, so that in the end it led me to this shocking discovery. While looking through that development in my views, I would advise to pay special attention to how a given their phase resulted from the consequences of preceding phase, and thus how consistent is the whole my cognitive path and how important for every kind of the "pursue of knowledge" is the continuous comparing of our views to the reality which surrounds us, and also is the willingness to change our views - if these views do NOT agree with that reality (in other words, how vital to the true "pursue of knowledge" is the behaviour exactly opposite to the one manifested today by the official science).

#H3. How progressed the evolution of my views, which led to this shocking discovery that God uses also "truths" as one of numerous tools which assist God in upbringing people into "soldiers of God":

Motto: "The most drastic improvement in personal philosophies of people is caused by the learning of the true situation of our God and by understanding of goals of God's actions."

Descriptions from this "part #H" are a good illustration of how the enlargement of our knowledge about God drastically improves our personal philosophy of life and our attitude to events which affect us and which result from this philosophy. For example, starting from times when my view of world began to be strongly deformed due to deceitful claims of the education which I was gaining then, from a Catholic that I have been in childhood, I was gradually transformed into an atheist. This in turn caused, that my philosophy of life began to be consistent with whatever states the old, official "atheistic orthodox science". (Notice here, that both, the old official "atheistic orthodox science", as well as the new "totaliztic science", are more fully described and defined in items #C1 to #C6 from the separate web page named telekinetics.htm.) During that atheistic period of my life, in many life situations of that time I applied findings and recommendations of that old "atheistic orthodox science" - although I still listened even then to the voice of my conscience. For example, my attitude to life defined at that time the Darwinian "survival of the fittest principle" promoted by the official science (may God forgive me those times of errors and distortions).

Fortunately for me, in the duration of this atheistic years of my life, God directed my fate towards undertaking a series of "private" research programs, which are described briefly in item #H4 below on this web page. One amongst these programs was launched by my formulation in 1985 of the theory of everything called the Concept of Dipolar Gravity. This theory has this to itself, that it proves conclusively that God does exist. Thus, since 1985 I started to know that God exists, and I began to be absolutely sure of God's existence. (Notice here, that initially, means during years of my childhood, as a Catholic I only believed that God exists. On the other hand, in life one can always stop to believe in something, but one NEVER ceases to know about this something.) But in that initial stage of my research, the views were still deformed by statements of the official science. Thus, I believed then, that God so created and pre-programmed the surrounding reality, that the operation of it sustained itself - completely without the need for divine intervention. Expressing this in other words, initially I confessed to the view, that the situation of God is similar to that of today's an "old retired person" - namely, that in spite of God having unlimited power over all things, and an unlimited amount of free time, after creating the physical world God "rests" all the time and even now He still almost does NOT intervene in the affairs of our physical world, but allows that these affairs be rolled out along their own paths. Of course, the professing to such believes exerted a significant influence on my philosophy of life from that time - as it is reflected, amongst others, in the content of the preceding parts of this web page. In later times, however, that is in 2007 and in 2013, I accomplished a few discoveries that have revealed to me true goals and the true situation of our God. This in turn drastically changed and perfected my philosophy of life, as well as resulted in improvements of the content of this web page. Among other things, it made me to realize, that after all, God does intervene continuously in the affairs of our physical world.

In that first period, soon after gaining in 1985 the certainty that God exists, I still carried out the initiated yet in 1981 a program of my research on UFOs and UFO-nauts. So even after 1985 (i.e. even after the formulation of my Concept of Dipolar Gravity), as the foundation of my personal philosophy still remained an intense belief based on the evidence available to me at that time, that the planet Earth is secretly occupied and exploited by cosmic relatives of humans called "UFO-nauts", who practice an evil kind of philosophy which I named parasitism. That belief is still reflected in the large proportion of this web page, which I decided to leave without changes to NOT ruin the illustration recorded in it about the subsequent improvements of my views. Hence, while simultaneously being certain that God exists, I started then to intensively seek answers to the question "why God does not intervene actively in such an overt act of injustice, as the secretive occupation and plundering of the Earth by evil UFO-nauts?" At that times, this lack of divine intervention I explained by the belief, that God acts like a kind of "old retired person" - means, that He complacently and passively looks at everything going on in the physical world ruled by Him, but He is satisfied with mainly forgiving people their sins.

However, the above my beliefs have changed dramatically in 2007, when during my professorship in Korea, on the basis of new evidence, which then become available to me, I made a shocking discovery, that actually UFO-nauts and UFOs are "simulations" ("fabrications") created temporary by God. This discovery on one hand explained to me many puzzles for the explanation of which previously I had NO evidence required - for example, the mystery of "why UFO-nauts and UFOs are always being watched or photographed in situations which authenticity is extremely easy to undermine by the so-called sceptics" - for examples see my web page named memorial.htm. On the other hand, the same discovery forced me to search intensively for answers to another question "why God simulates(fabricates) the existence and evil activities of these parasitic UFO-nauts?" The attempts of that time to answer this question also are illustrated on this web page.

My search for an answer to this very important question above, "why God simulates evil UFO-nauts?" succeeded in May 2013, when I discovered that our God is in the situation which puts certain pressures on Him - namely that with God happens similarly like with living situations of each one of us, which situations force us to undertake such and not other activities. That newly discovered situation of God is described comprehensively in item #B1.1 from the separate web page named antichrist.htm. This discovery marked the beginning of the entire new my research program pursued intensively until today, the theme of which could be entitled "research on the impact of the situation in which our God is, on the methods that our God is using in His interactions with people". These research have shown, amongst others, that our God is raising up people into the moral, effective, efficient, resourceful, dedicated to their God, and battle-hardened "soldiers of God". In turn, as we know, the soldiers must be brought up differently than sissies and cowards. So in order to make use of so raised people to suffering, toil, overcoming obstacles and hardships of "soldiers' fate", God intentionally subjects humans to various experiences that are unpleasant for them - including shabby treatment by evil UFO-nauts. In fact, God uses on humans the educational method that is rather unpleasant for us, which in item #F3 from the web page named wszewilki\_uk.htm is described in detail under the name "principle of reversals". For implementing this educational method on people, God uses various tools, one of which is the appropriate management of the fate of every "truth" - as described already above in item #H2.

Many of above descriptions which explain how evolved my discovery that God uses, amongst others, "truth" for such upbringing of people that they become "soldiers of God", probably is NOT clear to those readers who are NOT familiar with the topics of my research and with their results. Thus, although these topics and results have already been described extensively on a number of my web pages and publications (for example, they are described on my autobiographical web page named pajak\_jan\_uk.htm), in order to NOT distract the reader from the course of deliberations of this "part #H", in the next item I am going to summarize very briefly the most important research programs that I continue to realize practically even now. Here they are.

#H4. The review of most important research programs, that I started and am implementing until now on principle of my "personal scientific hobby" - that illustrates the improvement of my personal philosophy and my attitude towards truths:

My research on the impact of the situation in which our God is, on the methods that God uses in His interactions with people, which research I began in May 2013, is already the 7th in turn, long-term research program that I opened in my life, and that implementation of which I continues until today on the principle of my "personal" scientific hobby (i.e. the research of which I finance from my own pocket and carry out in my own "private time" - i.e. the time that other people typically spend on resting). Before I started the implementation of this latest, 7th research program, previously I accomplished the 6 other similar research programs. Each one amongst these programs essentially perfected my personal philosophy of life, and my attitude towards truths. Below I am going to explain briefly what consisted of all these my "private" research programs, and how they influenced my personal philosophy of life, and my attitude towards truths. While reviewing my explanations I suggest to pay attention to how each next of them resulted directly from the accomplishing of basic goals and tasks of the previous programs, means how these my subsequent research programs formed an unified "path to truths" which I followed in my life (unfortunately, which also turned out to be a kind of my personal "thorny path"). Here are these research programs:

#1. Periodic Table. My first long-term research program, the development of which on principles of my scientific hobby is still continued until today, was "the development of my Periodic Table and the examination of conclusions that arise from this table". This my "Periodic Table" (also called "The Periodic Table of Propulsion Systems"), which I discovered (or invented) as long back as in 1973 - when I still worked at the Technical University of Wroclaw, is like the equivalent to the "Mendelejev Table" - only that instead of regularities in the chemical elements, my "Periodic Table" describes regularities in the development of human propulsion systems - see descriptions of it in item #B1 from the web page named propulsion.htm. Although my "Periodic Table" was formulated yet in 1973, analysis of conclusions arising from it, practically are carried out until today. In fact, only relatively recently, because of this my Table, I managed to identify and to describe how works God's the so-called "omniplan", i.e. to identify and to describe the software entity developed by God - with the help of which God manages the "reversible software time" in which we all live. (Because this "omniplan" is described comprehensively in items #C3 and #C4 from my web page named immortality.htm, I am NOT going to explain here again how it works.) In turn, the learning of the operation of this "omniplan" allows for an easier building the "time vehicles" of my invention, due to which one day people will be able to live forever, because each time after reaching an old age they will be able to shift back in this "reversible software time" to years of their youth.

The discovery of the fact, that inventions and developments of human propulsion systems are ruled by Periodic Laws similar to those laws that govern the formation of various chemical elements, were for me a huge cognitive shock. In fact, it opened my mind to many truths previously unrealised by people, for example to the truth that both, chemical elements from the nature, as well as subsequent propulsion systems invented and implemented by people, once were designed "a priori" by some overriding mind (i.e. by God), or to the truth that learning the Periodic Principle which this master mind (God) has used to design the various propulsion systems, allows for early prediction of the next vehicles that are to be completed on Earth in the future, and for prediction what will be the construction and operation of these future vehicles.

#2. Magnocraft. The first and most important finding stemming from my "Periodic Table", was that soon, because around 2036, people are to build a completely new kind of fast like light and silent flying vehicles (starships), which I named the Magnocrafts. Hence my 2nd long-term research program, that directly stemmed from my Periodic Table, was "the design, development and research of the Magnocrafts". Magnocrafts are described in more detail in volume 3 of my newest [monograph \[1/5\]](#). The first publication which described them appeared already in 1980 - that is still in the days when I worked at the Technical University of Wrocław, in Poland. Soon later, I invented and worked out a detailed design and operation of the device named the Oscillatory Chamber, which provides the motive power for these Magnocrafts.

The development of the Magnocraft and the Oscillatory Chamber brought about another revolution in my personal philosophies and views on the truths. It made me to realize, that "in the world in which we live, everything conceivable, is also accomplishable", and that the only restriction that inhibits the development of humanity, are the limitations of imagination and the lack of openness of human minds.

#3. UFOs and UFOonauts. While I was developing and researching my Magnocrafts, other people started to tell me, that they saw my vehicle in flight. Only that they called them "UFOs". These stories persuaded me to start the 3rd, many years-long research program, which can be entitled the "impartial and objective research on UFO vehicles and on UFOonauts". These research led me, among others, to the development of the formal scientific proof stating that "UFO vehicles do exist objectively, and are already operational Magnocrafts". That proof is published, among others, on my web page named ufo proof.htm. Another achievement of my research on UFOs was that I identified what phenomena accompany the appearance on Earth of "time vehicles" which these UFOonauts have and use for a long time. This in turn allowed me to work out further details of the construction and operation of the Earth's version of "time vehicles" of my invention, which not-too-distant completion on Earth is also foretold by my "Periodic Table". These my "time vehicles" are described quite accurately on several of web pages, e.g. on the web page named immortality.htm.

UFOs and UFOonauts caused another revolution in my views on the truths. They made me to realize, that "there are more things on heaven and earth than philosophers ever dreamed of". In this way they opened my mind and my eyes to the habit of constant noticing and explaining the truths that previously were ignored.

#4. Concept of Dipolar Gravity. This my "theory of everything" named the Concept of Dipolar Gravity I conceived during one fine day while walking around the park in the city of Invercargill, New Zealand. This theory is described in more detail in volumes 4, 5 and also 1, from my newest [monograph \[1/5\]](#). It proved to be the most important theory of my life, and probably also the most important theory which other people should learn. After all, it allowed me, amongst others, to prove formally that people are living simultaneously in three different worlds (i.e. in the physical world, in the counter-world and in the virtual world), one of which worlds is inhabited by God, and to also prove that people have immortal souls. In addition, it allowed me to develop the formal scientific proof that "God exists" - for the description of this proof, see item #G2 from my web page named god proof.htm.

This my "Concept of Dipolar Gravity" (by people recognizing my accomplishments often abbreviated as "KDG") turned out to be the essential foundation on which I could start to build the entire edifice of new knowledge and to learn entirely new truths. After all, for example, from the former atheist it turned me into a person "knowing" for sure that God exists. And I should remind here that knowledge is better than faith, because "one can always stop believing, but NEVER ceases to know".

#5. Totalizm. After the indisputable determination due to the Concept of Dipolar Gravity, this scientific fact that God really exists, and after a thorough explaining to myself who (what) our God actually is, where our God comes from (what initiated His existence), and on what principles God acts, it becomes necessary to develop a new philosophy which would teach people how they should live so that they do NOT get continually into trouble with God for their misconduct or wrong lifestyle. So my 5th long-term research project, which also continues until today, was to develop the new philosophy of life, which I named the totalizm (spelled with "z" - to distinguish it from "totalitarianism"). This my new philosophy teaches the most appropriate rules of conduct in our daily lives. Some amongst these rules are described briefly in items #A2.1 to #A2.10 from my web page named totalizm.htm, while in detail I explained them in my monograph on totalizm available, amongst others, via the web page named text 8 2.htm. It is worth noticing that totalizm is currently the most moral and peaceful philosophy in the world, and that it is the only philosophy in the world formulated in the last half-century which is gaining increasingly more followers and people practicing it on a daily basis because its principles and recommendations actually come true in everyday lives of ordinary people.

I NOT only formulated totalizm, but also - as far as it allows me my situation and my inherent human imperfections, I try to practice it in my everyday life. This in turn has opened me to the flooding of an ocean of new truths, what I am trying to describe in my publications.

#6. UFOnauts and UFOs are God's "simulations". In 2007, the South Korean government invited me to a 10-month long position of a full visiting professor at one of Korean universities. During this professorship I got an access to a whole series of new items of evidence that supported each one amongst these my hobby research projects that I carried out at that time. When I analyzed this series of new evidence, I suddenly was shocked. This is because on the basis of it I discovered the fact that UFOs actually are NOT interstellar ship of our cosmic relatives with the decadent morality (for which previously I considered UFOs), but are only "temporary simulations" (fabrications) that God repeatedly creates so that He can highly discreetly confront them with carefully selected people. These "simulated UFOs" now fulfil the same functions, which once fulfilled the "devils". From this shocking discovery arose my next, 6th long-term research project, namely "the research of God and methods of God's interactions with people". Due to this research I discovered, among others, that God sends disasters exclusively to those communities that have begun to practice the above-threshold level of "immorality" - for details see the web page named quake.htm, and that one of the ways in which God demonstrates to people reasons for these disasters, is that disasters have been caused technically by UFO vehicles - for details see item #C2 on my web page named tornado.htm. In addition, I discovered also that those children who do NOT learn to listen to their own organ of "conscience" are dying at a young age - for details see item #G1 of my web page named will.htm.

The research program which started this discovery from Korea, that "UFOs and UFO-nauts are temporary God's 'simulations' ('fabrications')", has completely changed my views about God. Previously I thought that although God certainly exists, in fact very rarely He interferes in the affairs from our physical world, allowing our world to "sustain its operation just by itself", while God still enjoys the rest of this Biblical 7th day of creation, behaving like an "old retired person". In turn my discovery that God "simulates" the existence and activities of UFO-nauts, revealed to me that in fact God continually interferes into the affairs of our physical world, only that for reasons which I should research He carefully hides from people these His interventions. In addition, I also realized that there is an important merit in the old Polish saying "Fear of God".

#7. The situation of God and its impact on the methods of God's actions. Although God and His methods of influencing people I already researched continuously from the time of my professorship in Korea in 2007, it was only in May 2013, when I discovered that God is in quite a situation, the significant pressures of which force God to educate people in a certain way, so that these people have acquired all the attributes of moral, resourceful, wise, battle-hardened "soldiers of God", ready to stand firmly for the values that our God represents. This discovery is described in item #B1.1 from my web page named antichrist.htm. It initiated my latest, 7th in turn, long-term program of research, one amongst results of which is described in this "part #H" and in item #A3 from this web page.

Knowing the fact that, similarly as people do, also our God is subjected to pressures of the situation in which He is, and that this situation of God exerts the strongest influence on the methods with which God interacts with humans, has again significantly improved the my views on the truths. It allowed me to understand the fact, that pain, suffering, disappointments of life, the difficulties with discovering and disseminating the new truths, etc., are all tools that our God is, amongst others, forced to use in order to develop in humans the desirable traits of "soldiers of God". Because as so far, people thought that virtually all of these tools of God are results of harmful to humans activities of "Satan", herewith I hurry to explain of whatever is explained in this "part #H". After all, the learning of this truth raises our awareness to a completely different level of cognition.

#H5. How the use of God's "principle of reversals" for managing fates of truths, affected my research programs discussed in item #H4 above:

In my publications I do NOT hide that this "principle of reversals" (i.e. the principle indicated in item #H2 above) - which God uses also on truths that I discovered and tried to disseminate and implement, has catastrophic consequences for these truths. As a result, the dissemination of almost every truth that I discovered have been blocked. For example, when in 1986 I turned to the Institute of TBM from the Technical University of Wrocław (means to the institute, my work in which created the inspiration for the invention of the Periodic Table and the Magnocraft), asking for the permission to open a habilitation thesis on "Magnocraft" and on "Oscillatory Chamber", the Research Council in this institute of that time refused to grant me this opportunity - which fact I described more broadly in items #J1 to #J3 from my web page named magnocraft.htm.

Of course, until the time when I discovered methods of God's acting described herein, that hermetic blocking of virtually almost all the truths that I discovered, was the reason for an immense amount of my frustration, stress, anguish, anxiety, feeling of being rejected and unwanted, painful loss of jobs, uncertainties of wandering around the world in search of bread, queries, searches, etc. These feelings, in turn, throughout almost the entire my life motivated me to intense furthering my research and creative searches. So on the one hand, their result was that rather than concentrating on the completion of, for example, only the first two of my research programmes, in my life I started and advanced implementation of seven such programs. However, on the other hand, that blocking caused that none of the advanced technical devices which I invented has been made available to mankind in the present immoral times in which people clearly are NOT ready yet for their proper use.

In contrast today, when I discovered already and understand the most important methods of God, this blocking of the truths which I determined ceases to arouse my emotions. So I regained peace and solace of nerves. I know that this blocking is good for the achievement of God's more superior goals and intentions.

An additional factor that causes my recent recovery of calm and that soothes my emotions, were also the recent discoveries concerning the consequences of the use of time vehicles of my invention. Namely, while preparing descriptions from items #H1 to #H10 of my web page named immortality.htm - which explain the comparison of the consequences of use of God's "omniplan" and my "time vehicles", I discovered quite a shocking truth, that without understanding the operation of "time vehicles" which I invented, and without the knowledge of consequences of their building, it is impossible to fully understand God. This truth practically means that in spite of the current blocking of truths that I discovered, at some future stage, God for certain is to allow a large proportion of these truths to get to the knowledge of all people. After all, also the future vehicle of Jesus, which in the Bible is described under the name of "New Jerusalem" (see the description of its role provided in item #J3 from my web page named malbork uk.htm), actually will be just such a "time vehicle". Thus, in order for people to be able to crew this vehicle and to direct its operation, firstly they need to build their own "time vehicles". In turn, the building of "time vehicles" by people will only be possible, if previously some nation directed by truth is to build my Magnocrafts and my Oscillatory Chambers, and if that nation earlier recognises officially the findings of my Concept of Dipolar Gravity. In this way, in order to realize the divine prophecies recorded in the last book of the Bible, God at some stage of the Earth's fate for sure is to withdraw the blockade that He currently placed on the truths that I discovered. Only that the time of the removal of this blockade will occur when the situation on Earth becomes consistent with God's plans - which I try to explain in more detail in item #H7 below on this web page.

#H6. "Why" and "how" the learning and spread of truths has been made by God to be so difficult, laborious and painful, that it allows educating people through the stimulation in them of strong feelings and reactions:

Motto: "For upbringing of people into 'soldiers of God', God is forced, amongst others, to so control every truth, that it proves to be more difficult for accepting than any version of untruths on the same subject."

The new "totaliztic science" determined, that the main goal for which God created people, is the "pursue of knowledge". However, in order people can effectively "pursue knowledge", God was forced to give to them the so-called "free will" - as this is explained widely in item #B3 from the web page named antichrist.htm, or in item #B1 from the web page named will.htm. Unfortunately, there are various adverse consequences of this interdependence of the "pursue of knowledge" and the "free will". For example, one of these adverse consequences is that everything which we have NOT experienced personally, but only about which other people have told us, for us is just someone's "pure theory", the truth of which we are ready to undermine - if only our philosophy or the situation in which we find ourselves urges us for some reason to carry out this undermining. (For more details on our tendency to treat the experiences and findings of other people as such contestable "pure theory" - see item #N3 from my web page named humanity.htm.) In turn, this situation that everything which other people report to us, or which they teach us, for us actually represents only the unverified information and "pure theory" - which then can either turn true or a lie, exerts serious implications for our process of pursuing of knowledge and learning truths. For example, it causes that God is forced to discreetly use on us various tools that force us to advance our knowledge and to seek the truth. One such a tool often used by God, is this "principle of reversals" mentioned already above in item #H2 (while described more comprehensively in item #F3 from my web page named wszewilki.htm) - i.e. the principle used by God, among others, to manage the fate of virtually every "truth". Of course, in order this "principle of reversals" is able to manage the fate of every truth, it is necessary that God continually creates the situation on Earth, that for whatever reasons, truth becomes difficult to learn and to disseminate - i.e. many times more difficult than lies (untruths) which replace it.

So let us now briefly overview the most important principles, methods, and tools with which God makes truths very difficult to learn and to disseminate (note that in our world, these principles, methods, and tools constitute also "attributes of truths"). Here they are, listed in items:

1. Causing that every person must get to know all truth on his or her own, and from the very beginning. In other words, causing by God, that truths determined by us cannot be given to anyone as a gift, and that "truths" cannot be "inherited". As the result, everyone on his or her own must painfully learn every truth. But we should understand here, that similarly as God supplied every person into the organ of so-called "conscience" - which constantly tells him or her what is moral and thus what he or she should do, while what is immoral and should be abandoned, God could also bestow every person into the hypothetical "organ of truth" - which would continually told him or her what is true and what is false.

2. The creation of such circumstances surrounding every truth, that learning it one has to earn with his or her own toil and effort which is proportional to profits caused by the knowledge of it. In other words, skilful creation by God of a situation, that learning of every truth forces the learner to climb "uphill in the so-called moral field" - described in item #H2 from the web page named totalizm.htm, or in item #C4.2 from the web page named morals.htm. For the locating of each of truths at a much higher level in this "moral field" than in this field are located all versions of related untruths, and in order to force learning of truths by climbing uphill in this "moral field", God uses such methods of acting, as the creation of situations that telling the truth is always painful, that the authorities of virtually every country and virtually every institution for various reasons persecute and punish those people who reveal the truth, that most of people, especially women, prefer to hear sweet lies (untruth) than to hear a bitter truth, etc., etc.

3. Incorporation into the nature of every human, the kind of "aversion to truths". God could have created humans as absolutely perfect beings - i.e. create them such as are described in item #I1 from the web page named quake.htm. After all, according to the Bible, in the new physical world that God intends to create when finishes for Him the usefulness of the current physical world, God is going to create people such that they were "like angels" (i.e. create them as absolutely perfect and immortal beings) - as describes it, amongst others, item #J3 from the page named malbork uk.htm. However, to effectively "pursue of knowledge", originally God created people maximally imperfect - as it is explained in items #B2 and #B1.1 from the web page named antichrist.htm. In turn, for people to be so imperfect, God needed to embed in their nature a whole range of immoral inclinations - the "aversion to truth" is just one of them. Due to these inclinations, God can implement on Earth the highly effective educational principle, described as the "principle of reversals" in item #F3 from my web page named wszewilki uk.htm. After all, only imperfect people can acquire the desired by God characteristics through the work on improving themselves and their character. However, the same inclinations also cause that almost none of the people likes to hear truths, but prefers to hear untruths - as an example consider stand of the old, official, so-called "atheistic orthodox science" in matters regarding God, soul, creation of man or the universe, the existence of UFOs, etc., and compare this stand of the old science with the stand of the new "totaliztic science" described in items #C1 to #C9 from the web page named god exists.htm.

4. Directing every process of learning of important truths along the so-called "line of the highest error and resistance". In other words, when someone is close to the truth, God always directs the actions of that someone, that he or she learns the truth at the very end, when he or she has exhausted versions of untruth on a given topic in which people can believe - as it is explained further in item #C6 from my separate web page named god exists.htm.

5. Making the capacity to discover new truths dependent from the level of morality in the society in which someone just tries to discover given truths. In other words, the establishment by God of two phenomena that self-regulate the discovery and learning of truths, which totalistic web pages describe under the names of "curse of inventors" and "inventive impotency". These two phenomena are most fully described, amongst others, in item #G1 from the separate web page named eco cars.htm. They cause, that in the immoral nations and communities is NOT possible to discover and spread new truths which generate the so-called "real progress" of a given nation or community. This in turn means that these immoral nations or communities decline over time and are conquered or colonized by more moral nations or communities which have been able to discover and learn new truths, and thus which generated real progress that lifted them to a higher level of civilization and a higher prosperity. (For example, according to the old Polish prophecies, the to-date European culture and dominance, which hermetically closed itself for completely new truths and which avoids learning such truths, soon will be surpassed and replaced worldwide by the culture and the dominance of the "yellow race" of people from East-Asian origins.)

6. Such directing the life fates of inventors and discoverers that the moment of implementation and dissemination of their inventions and discoveries is entirely consistent with the divine "omniplan". In other words, causing NOT only that "truth always prevailed in the very end", but also causing that "the victory of the truth occurred in the moment of time and in circumstances when wide dissemination of it among the people agree with God's plans, and thus when God is to help this truth to become victorious".

7. Helping various immoral individuals and nations to steal the authorship of truths that were discovered and developed by other people or other nations. This principle of God's action arouses the strongest emotions, which then lead to the fighting for the truth coming on top. For example, if one learns the work of the present official science, then he or she is to discover, that the vast majority of discoveries and research is attributed to those false authors who NEVER have made any contribution to it, and who only forced authentic researchers and explorers to add their names to the beginning of the list of authors because of their position of authority. Similarly is with inventions - the vast majority of which is assigned to individuals or nations which have them copied or stolen - for examples of these see items #I3 to #I5 from my web page named mozajski uk.htm, or item #G2 from my web page named eco cars.htm.

8. The use of "truths" for testing the quality of the people. God is forced to separate in the future - as the Bible expresses it, the "wheat" from the "chaff", or the "sheep" from the "goats". After all, only a highly moral, resourceful and active people are useful for God during the next stage of the development of our physical world - for more details see item #B1.1 from the web page named antichrist.htm. In turn most of the useless "chaff" or "goats" is disposable - as described in items #I1 and #N1 from the web page named quake.htm. Thus God is closely monitoring the attitudes of individual people towards essential "truths", and uses these attitudes as that criterion to distinguish precious human "wheat" from the disposable human "chaff" (see also item #H7 below regarding people's "standing on truths").

At this point it is worth noting that in order for learning and disseminating of truths by people could be characterized by the above attributes, our physical world must be ruled very skilfully by extremely wise and almighty God, having in the arsenal of His methods of action the tools such as the "omniplan" described in items #C3 and #C4 from the separate web page named immortality.htm - which "omniplan" allows God the management of reversible software time in which we all live. This in turn causes the above attributes of truths to add up to the set of features described in item #B1 from the web page named changelings.htm - which prove, that our physical world is skilfully and intelligently ruled by a wise and powerful God (this intelligently ruled world is researched and described by the new "totaliztic science"), and which clearly distinguish this intelligently ruled world from the mindless world ruled by random events and coincidences (this stupid and coincidental world is researched, described and forced upon us by the old "atheistic orthodox science").

#H7. Benefits harvested by people due to learning the situation described here, that for educational purposes God precisely manages the entire fate of every truth, including the circumstances and the moment this truth overcomes the versions of untruths related to it:

In today's philosophical climate, almost every one of us believes since the childhood that the victory of truth over untruths totally depends on our efforts and activities. I mean, believes that if one tries really hard, then one is able to force the truth that one learned, through the wall of various versions of untruths that obstruct its way to the consciousness of other people - as it is described in item #E1 from this web page. However, in this belief we forget about the plans and methods of action of God. As it is explained e.g. in item #B1.1 from the web page named antichrist.htm, the situation in which our God is, exerts a strong pressure on Him to so design the fate of every human being that this fate causes educational and training effects intended by God. And God is raising up people into moral, resourceful, tough and battle hardened, future "soldiers of God". Thus, as befits someone who educates and trains such soldiers for Himself, God cannot coddle them and deprive them of unpleasant experiences that harden their character. This is why God intentionally serves to virtually every person on Earth the required dose of pain, suffering and disappointments - as described in items #C1 to #C9 from the web page god exists.htm. It is also for these educational purposes and to set an example to others, that God terminates lives at a young age for every person who in previous passages through time has proven its inability to listen to the voice of own conscience - as this is explained in item #G1 from the web page named will.htm. So similarly to the use of pain and to killing of immoral people, God uses also "truth" in educational purposes. For example, no matter how many people believe in the correctness and in the need for teaching others about a given truth, this truth still prevails only when its dissemination is to fulfil its educational goals and is to fit into the divine "omniplan" (i.e. this "omniplan" that is described in item #C4 from the web page named immortality.htm). In turn such a development of situation builds up the frustration in increasingly more people, forcing them this way to fight for the victory of a given truth. In turn this fight is shaping and developing in them the desired features of the "soldiers of God", and is also a kind of "test" which allows then God for this described in the Bible separation of the human "grains" from the human "chaff".

Realizing the shocking fact, that God uses also "truth" as one of His educational tools, provides us with a whole series of benefits. Let us give here examples of at least most important amongst them. Here they are:

(1) The increase of our peace of mind and the elimination of negative emotions from our lives. When we do NOT know about methods and principles of God's operation, then every unpleasant situation which affects us, for example pain and suffering, or the blockade imposed on the truth that is very close to our heart, stirs in us all kinds of negative emotions. But learning the facts described in this "part #H", effectively eliminates such negative emotions from our lives. After all, we understand the need and desirability of what is happening. Also each unpleasant experience makes us to ask the question "which our attributes forced God to subject us to that experience?" In turn, after finding the answer to this question, we undertake voluntarily the effort to eliminate, or at least to maintain under control, these undesirable attributes.

(2) The increase of our tolerance and patience towards the stupidity of other people and towards the stubbornness with which they cling to the various versions of lies (untruths), instead of opening their eyes and minds to learning truths which we ourselves have previously learned. Please believe here also, that while explaining the above benefit, "I know what I am talking about". After all, I myself learned a lot of truths that are stemming from my "private" research programs described in item #H4 above. Also practically almost none of these truths managed to break through the wall of closed minds of the majority of other people. Thus, until the time when I advanced my research program number #7 and started to understand the relationship between what we see around us and the situation and plans of our God, the failures to make aware other people of the truths that I discovered, were the source of great deal of frustrations and disappointments. However recently, due to research described here, I regained peace, tolerance and patience. This is because I realized, that according to the divine "omniplan" and requirements to educate other people, this situation with the truths that I discovered has to develop in just such a manner, so that it is to inspire people to fight, and hence it is to lead to more superior benefits in the future.

(3) The abandoning of materialistic ambitions that stem from learning of given truths. In today's societies beliefs and habits established themselves, that every new truth should deliver various material benefits to its discoverers, via the use of patents, implementations, royalties, copyrights, licenses, etc. This in turn causes that authors of many inventions and discoveries avoid dissemination of the most crucial/important details of truths to which they arrived, because they, as yet, have NOT acquired patents and implementation rights for these truths. In the result, then something happens to them, and truths they have discovered are lost or forgotten. So in the future someone else must re-discover these truths with a great toil and effort. On the other hand, if one learns facts described in this "part #H", then he or she stops to pay attention to own materialistic ambitions, because he or she knows that the fate of given truth that was discovered, depend on the plans of God. So it is God who chooses those ones who are likely to derive any benefits, as God is to maximize the educational value of given truth. Thus, the role of inventors and discoverers mainly boils down to the learning of the truth and to the dissemination of it among other people (i.e. to its publication). In turn, what is to happen then with this truth, it depends entirely on God and on the actions of these other people.

(4) The identification of the type of one's attributes that require the elimination or improvement, resulting from the matching of the truth about misfortunes which affected someone, with the work of karma. Although in today's world, the pursuit of truth is paralyzed by various laws, for example by "privacy of information" or by "criminality of slander", still only on the basis of the type of disasters that affect someone, just the knowledge about "karma" already allows us to also infer the truth about the behaviours or attributes of someone's character, which brought to this someone the sending by God of a given kind of disasters. After all, karma has this to itself, that it causes the return to the original source of whatever someone had previously "let in circulation". Thus, if for example, someone experiences the loss of ownership of home, because this house is e.g. destroyed by a tornado, the mechanism of karma suggests that earlier this someone prevented through his or her conduct someone else to enjoy a home ownership. On the other hand, if someone experiences of being deceived, the mechanism of karma suggests that this someone at some earlier stage of his or her life, also has cheated on someone else. Etc., etc. In other words, if we approach constructively disasters that affect someone, and if by using the "principle of reversals" we establish the truth about the original reasons for these disasters, then this truth is precisely indicating what kind of someone's behaviours or attributes of character is disapproved by God to the extend of sending a given disaster - and thus should be eliminated, or improved by this someone.

(5) The getting to know one's future, resulting from the one's "standing on truths". In item #H2 above on this web page I have tried to draw the reader's attention that from the one's "standing on truths" or the "attitude towards truth and towards people who reveal truth" God made the basic criterion that decides about one's development and growth or decline. A confirmation of this fact may be the Bible, for example the warning from God repeated multiple times in the Bible, that those ones who do NOT tell truth, will NOT be allowed to heaven, or e.g. the last book from the Bible, which provides an encrypted in symbolism prophecy about the final history of the mankind. According to this Biblical prophecy, the final superpower on Earth will be "the beast that speaks like a dragon" - see the Biblical "Book of Revelation", verse 13:11. But probably everyone knows that "Dragon" is actually a symbol of culture of East Asia, where it is present in every aspect of local tradition, and where even today on streets are carried out public "Dragon Dances". Furthermore, about this fact, that the role of the final superpower that is to lead the world, will be taken away in the future from nations of the European descent and given into hands of the "yellow race", states also the old Polish prophecy mentioned already in item #H6 from this web page - for details of this prophecy see item #H1 on the web page prophecies.htm. As it is extremely easy to discover if one visits any of the countries of East Asia - e.g. the South Korea, the essential reason why these countries are now quickly intercepting the leading roles that until recently were held by countries with the population of predominantly European origins, is just their "stand regarding truths" which hits our eyes in these countries.

Of course, there is much more similar benefits from learning facts described here. For example, they refine our character, give us the qualities that God is looking for in us, lift us to a higher level of consciousness, bring us comfort, bring us closer to God, etc., etc. Thus, as a person who perfectly "knows what he is saying" - because of my past fate and the number of new truths that I have discovered myself, I highly recommend what is written here as another "truth of life" the learning of which and the inclusion of which to our philosophy of life, truly brings us various benefits.

Part #I: Summary, and the final information of this web page:

#I1. Summary of this web page:

For everyone the most easy is to reassure others that is telling a truth. More difficult is to actually say the truth. Even more difficult is to understand what truth really is. Still more difficult is to notice what is the truth in the ocean of intentional lies, alterations of truth, settings up, and all other kinds of activities aimed at passing untruth to us, with which we are constantly bombarded. I hope, that this web page is to assist the reader in a bit better orientation in this present "informational jungle" in which it is increasingly more difficult to see the truth.

#I2. Learn more about suppressed truths:

This web site is to allow you to learn more about various truths that are either suppressed by present orthodox science, are neglected by people. Descriptions of such truths are presented in various scientific monographs available free of charge from this internet site. These monographs describe even how telepathy work and how to build telepathic devices (i.e. a telepathic pyramid) which allow to communicate with the use of telepathic waves, how telekinesis work and how to build telekinetic power stations that produce so-called "free energy", and many more. The most recent two out of these monographs are [1/4] "Advanced magnetic devices" and [8] "Totalizm". (Note that each of these monographs is downloadable free of charge from this web site). For example subsection L6.3 (from volume 7 of monograph [8]) presents basic information that I managed to gather about the phenomenon of telepathy itself. In turn subsections L6.3.1 to L6.3.4, and L6.3, from volume 7 of monograph [8] present various practical applications for the mechanism of telepathy. The information that you find in these subsections are the first hand details, because I actually researched this extraordinary phenomenon myself. So I am not just a bitter academician who negatively scoffs at it, but a person who knows from his own experience that telepathy does exist, and also knows how it is triggered and how it works. Have a pleasant reading!

#I3. How with the web page named "skorowidz\_links.htm" one can find totaliztic descriptions of topics in which he is interested:

A whole array of topics equally interesting as these from the above web page, is also discussed from the angle that is unique to the philosophy of totalizm. All these related topics can be found and identified with the use of content index prepared especially to make easier finding these web pages and topics. The name "index" means a list of "key words" usually provided at the end of textbooks, which allows to find fast the description or the topic in which we are interested. My web pages also has such a content "index" - only that it is additionally supplied in green links which after "clicking" at them with a mouse immediately open the web page with the topic that interest the reader. This content "index" is provided on the web page named skorowidz\_links.htm. It can be called from the "organising" part of "Menu 1" of every totaliztic web page. I would recommend to look at it and to begin using it systematically - after all it brings closer hundreds of totaliztic topics which can be of interest to everyone.

#14. I would suggest to return periodically to this web page in order to check further updates of the descriptions of hidden methods of suppressing and distorting truths:

In order to see how the updates of this web page is going to eventuate and progress further, it is worth to revisit it from time to time. From the definition this web page is going to be subjected to further improvements and extensions, as soon as possible new information come to my hands, or some events take place which will inspire me for carrying out the update. So if in the future you wish to learn these news, then perhaps you should revisit this web page. This is because I am going to update it periodically, as soon as the further developments give reasons for reporting any further details.

It is also worth to check periodically the blog of totalizm available under the address totalizm.blox.pl/html (with a mirror copy available under the address totalizm.wordpress.com). On this blog many matters addressed here are also discussed and complemented with additional details stemming from new events unveiling before our eyes.

#15. Emails to the author of this web page:

Current email addresses to the author of this web page, i.e. officially to Dr Eng. Jan Pajak while courteously to Prof. Dr Eng. Jan Pajak, at which readers can post possible comments, opinions, descriptions, or information which in their opinion I should learn, are provided on the web page named pajak\_jan\_uk.htm (for its version in the HTML language), or the web page named pajak\_jan\_uk.pdf (for the version of the web page "pajak_jan_uk.pdf" in safe PDF format - which safe PDF versions of further web pages by the author can also be downloaded via links from item #B1 of the web page named text\_11.htm).

The author's right for the use of courteous title of "Professor" stems from the custom that "with professors is like with generals", namely when someone is once a professor, than he or she courteously remains a professor forever. In turn the author of this web page was a professor at 4 different universities, i.e. at 3 of them, from 1 September 1992 until 31 October 1998, as an "Associate Professor" from English-based educational system, while on one university as a (Full) "Professor" (since 1 March 2007 till 31 December 2007 - means at the last place of employment in his professional life).

However, please notice that because of my rather chronic lack of time, I reluctantly reply to emails which contain JUST time consuming requests, while simultaneously they document a complete ignorance of their author in the topic area which I am researching.

#16. A copy of this web page is also disseminated as a brochure from series [11] in the safe format "PDF":

This web page is also available in the form of a brochure marked [11], which is prepared in "PDF" ("Portable Document Format") - currently considered to be the most safe amongst all internet formats, as normally viruses cannot cling to PDF. This clear brochure is ready both, for printing, as well as for reading from a computer screen. It also has all its green links still active. Thus, if it is read from the computer screen connected to internet, then after clicking onto these green links, the linked web pages and illustrations will open. Unfortunately, because the volume of it is around a double of the volume of web page which this brochure publishes, the memory limitations on a significant number of free servers which I use, do NOT allow to offer it from them (so if it does NOT download from this address, because it is NOT available on this server, then you should click onto any other address from Menu 3, and then check whether in there it is available). In order to open this brochure (and/or download it to own computer), it suffices to either click on the following green link or to open from any totaliztic web site the PDF file named as in the above green link.

If the reader wishes to check, whether some other totaliztic web page which he or she just is studying, is also available in the form of such PDF brochure, then should check whether it is listed amongst links from "part #B" of the web page named text 11.htm. This is because links from there indicate all totaliztic web pages, which are already published as such brochures from series [11] in PDF format. I wish you a fruitful reading!
